WORLD COURT PROJECT REMOVED FOR PRESENT AS POLITICAL ISSUE

By GEORGE R. HOLMES
International News Service Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Nov. 12.—President Coolidge's ultimatum to Europe that the United States will enter the World Court on its own terms or not at all was accepted here today as sounding an official death knell to the project, and signifying the removal of the issue, for the time being at least, from the realm of politics.

The principal powers of Europe have already agreed the senate's reservations are not acceptable. The President has said these reservations will not be changed. There the matter rests. There, apparently, it will continue to rest until the powers change their attitude.

Irreconcilables Jubilant

The irreconcilables are jubilant, and even some of those who reluctantly voted for the Court last January under pressure from the White House were relieved today over the turn of events.

One effect of the President's speech may be to forestall the introduction in the senate next month of a resolution to recall the favorable vote of last session, although anti-court opinion is not unanimous on it. Some of them believe that such a resolution should be introduced and passed while the temper of the senate and of the White House is aroused over the matter. Others believe that Mr. Coolidge gave a coup de grace to the whole project at Kansas City yesterday, and that no good purpose would be served in stirring up the issue again.

Few of Mr. Coolidge's speeches have been received with such universal senate approbation as that of yesterday. Even the Democrats who assisted in passing the adherence resolution praised the President's stand.

Reflects Sentiment.

Senator Walsh (D.) of Montana, who was one of the court leaders in the fight last winter, said the President had "accurately reflected the attitude of the senate."

Senator Johnson (R.) of California, an original irreconcilable, said, "Apparently with a sigh of relief the President has kissed the league of nations goodbye." Senator Wm. E. Borah, chairman of the foreign relations committee, said the speech "was fine as far as it went," meaning he thought Mr. Coolidge should have gone even further and recommended the recall of last January's action.

Only a handful of the ardent proleague and pro-court senators found fault with Mr. Coolidge's expressed attitude. Senator Bruce (D.) of Maryland, said the court "will outlive the President's valedictory."

PRISON TERM FOR BORCHERS

Washington Youth Is Sentenced By Court—Case Grew Out Of Girl's Death.

(International News Service)
WASHINGTON, Pa., Nov. 12.—William F. Borchers, Jr., of Washington, today was sentenced to from three and one-half to seven years in the Western penitentiary by Judge Erwin Cummins in Washington county court after he pleaded guilty to a charge of procuring an abortion, resulting in the death of Miss Margaret Foley and unborn babe in Washington on September 1, last.

Judge Cummins quashed two charges of murder placed against Borchers, basing his action on the Ludlow law of 1860, which takes this crime out of the murder class and provides a special penalty.

The charges against Borchers grew out of an illegal operation performed on Miss Foley by the late Dr. Roger F. Parry. On the day following the girl's death, Dr. Parry committed suicide in a jail cell. Borchers was taken into custody and recently was indicted by the county grand jury which investigated his alleged relations with Miss Foley.

"A blood transfusion was made to correct the condition of moderately severe secondary anaemia," he stated.

Motorists Trapped By Electricity Are Rescued From Death

(International News Service)
PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 12.—For almost an hour two trapped men crouched motionless in an automobile here about which a broken trolley wire had wrapped itself electrifying the car so that only the small rubber floor mat upon which the men stood surrounded by sheets of blue flame saved them from death.

The motorists, Walter Hanerwas and Richard Owens, were driving on Grand avenue here when the overhead wire snapped and fell about the rear wheels of their car.

The two men stood upon the insulating rubber mat careful not to touch any part of the electrified metal, parts of which melted from the contact, until they were rescued by electricians. Both were uninjured.

Gauged by extent of vocal demonstration, Minneapolis and St. Paul, which he visited in June, 1925, still hold the call in the matter of presidential receptions, but never has Mr. Coolidge—nor any other executive—addressed such a vast throng as was assembled Armistice Day in Kansas City, Mo.

Seek To Bring Harvard-Tigers Together Again

Chairman Of Board Of Overseers At Harvard Makes Statement

(International News Service)
NEW YORK, Nov. 12.—With Harvard alumni, abetted by Yale, striving to heal the breach between the Crimson and Princeton and reports of new ententes including an eastern big ten, filling the air the status of the Princeton-Harvard situation was far from clear today.

In a formal statement, Howard Elliott, chairman of the Northern Pacific railroad and president of the Harvard board of overseers spoke for peace and a resumption of athletic relations that would preserve the old big three intact.

He asked for an apology, "man fashion" from the Harvard authorities and their offer to "sit down, talk things over and arrange for a resumption of cordial relations." At the same time he made it clear that he did not speak for the board but merely as an individual overseer.

Truck Driver Is Fatally Injured

(International News Service)
PHILADELPHIA, Pa., Nov. 12.—William J. Dugan, 20, of Philadelphia, a truck driver, was struck and killed today at a grade crossing of the West Jersey and Seashore railroad by the special train bearing Governor Al Smith of New York from Atlantic City to Philadelphia to attend "New York Day" exercises at the Sesqui-Centennial Exposition.

Dugan's truck had stalled on the crossing at Lindenwald, N. J., when it was struck by the express and he was carried several blocks before the train, reported travelling at the rate of 70 miles an hour, could be stopped. The truck was demolished.

Dugan died enroute to a Camden hospital.

HUNT MANIAC KILLER FOR DEATH OF GIRLS ON CHICAGO STREETS

(International News Service)
CHICAGO, Nov. 12.—A maniac killer who has shot two school girls within the past 48 hours, killing one and probably fatally injuring the second, was being hunted by the authorities here today.

Victoria Delimata, 16, was the first victim. She was shot and instantly killed Wednesday night while returning home from a music lesson. Twenty hours later, Esther Haas, 13, was shot as she walked home from school. Her condition is critical.

Circumstances surrounding both shootings were indentical. The same calibre pistol was used in each instance. The fact that both shootings occurred in the same section of the city led investigators to believe that one person committed both crimes.

A former inmate of the Kankakee State Insane hospital, living in the neighborhood, is being sought for questioning. The absence of any motive for the strange attacks suggests the theory that a maniac with a penchant for killing young girls is abroad.

Residents of Chicago Heights where both shootings occurred, are terrified. Many parents have refused to allow their children to leave the house, pending the arrest of the mysterious assasin. Others are sending their children to and from school under heavy guard.

Citizens have organized vigilance committees and are assisting police in the search for the slayer.

QUEEN MARIE IN ST. LOUIS

Royal Party Reaches St. Louis Early Today For Round of Receptions.

NEARLY MOBBED IN KANSAS CITY

By DAVID P. SENTNER
International News Service Staff Correspondent

ABOARD QUEEN MARIE'S SPECIAL TRAIN, Nov. 12.—Barely recovered from a narrow escape from being mobbed by over-enthusiastic crowds in Kansas City, Queen Marie of Roumania arrived today in St. Louis.

The day's schedule called for a drive through the city in the morning, an exclusive luncheon and greeting of Roumanian residents at Washington University in the afternoon and a banquet and horse show in the evening, the royal party will leave tomorrow for Chicago where the battle between the high hats and the low hats will be decided.

This issue which is gaining in intensity as Her Majesty moves eastward, flared for but a moment in Kansas City. The visit of a President and a Queen on the same day gave victory to the silken tile faction and there was not a high hat in garret or store left unworn.

Queen Marie is looking forward to visiting "incognito," a typical American home. She plans in Chicago or some other city along the way to drop in on a middle class domicile and hopes that she may prove welcome.

Hundreds Parade In Armistice Day Celebration Here

Large Delegation Of Ex-Service Men Turns Out To Honor Heroes.

STIRRING ADDRESS AT HIGH SCHOOL

John D. Meyer of Pittsburgh, Makes Plea For Law Observance.

New Castle's Armistice parade Thursday evening was one of the best ever held here, not only in numbers participating but in various organizations taking part and the special parade features introduced.

The spectators also aided in making the parade a decided success by keeping behind the ropes on Washington street and allowing the paraders to spread out and parade in good form.

Parade Breaks Ranks.

Unfortunately, the wonderful parade broke up for the most part at the foot of the highland avenue hill, when numerous service men and others broke ranks and the result was that only a small crowd was present at the senior high school to hear the speaker and the pleasing program arranged for the occasion. In fact when the parade bands arrived at their destination, they were practically alone.

John D. Meyer, United States attorney for the district of western Pennsylvania, made a wonderful address, making a plea for the observance of law and during which he remarked on the fact that it was the lack of interest in meetings such as these that lowered the standards of patriotism and that it was one of the needs of the country that a more general interest in such occasions be aroused among the people.

Parade Moves.

The parade headed by Grand Marshal John D. Kennedy, his aides, police escort and the Pennsylvania railroad band, was on the move promptly and the memorial meeting at the senior high school was started on time, the paraders moving in ample time to make the line of march reach the high school for the service. The parade moved out of Jefferson street onto Washington street, thence to the East Side station, then back on Washington street to Mill and up to the high school.

There was a record number of former service men, both in uni-

Berger Woods Purchased By J. C. Gilfillan

Berger woods, long famed for its natural scenic beauty, and which it was believed would some day be New Castle's most beautiful municipal park, has been purchased by J. C. Gilfillan from the Berger heirs and will be converted into an exclusive residential section.

The plot of ground, covered with immense trees, consists of 13 acres which lies between Highland avenue and Carlisle street. The place extends two blocks west of Highland and in developing the acreage Mr. Gilfillan has decided that the trees will be retained.

He stated today that lots will not be smaller than 60 feet in width and he expects that the place will be dotted with some of the most beautiful homes that architects can plan. The homes will be enhanced he says by the preservation scheme planned.

The deal was negotiated recently, announcement of the purchase being made today by J. C. Gilfillan, personally.

D. W. RICHARDS DIES SUDDENLY

East Long Avenue Man Is Found Dead In Bed Thursday Evening

David W. Richards, aged 56, of 445 East Long avenue, was found dead in bed Thursday afternoon at six o'clock. While he had been ill for several days, his illness was thought not to be serious, but apparently he was seized with paralysis of the heart.

His wife and son were both out of the house at the time death occurred and upon their return were shocked to find that the husband and father had passed away. Dr. Mary J. Baker was called and said that in her opinion heart failure was the cause of death.

Mr. Richards was born in Tradega, South Wales, in December, 1869, the son of Mr. and Mrs. William Richards. Early in life he came to America with his parents, settling in Pittsburgh, and nearly 30 years ago came to New Castle.

He was a machinist by trade and for many years had been employed by the Pennsylvania Engineering Works. For several years he conducted a confectionary store on West Washington street.

He is survived by his wife, Mrs. Phoebe Richards; a daughter, Mrs. Chester A. Brenner, of Greenville, Pa., and a son, William, of this city. Funeral services will be held at 2:30 Monday afternoon, Nov. 15, from his former home, with Rev. Emrys Thomas, pastor of the Emmanuel Baptist church, in charge. Interment will be in Oak Park cemetery.

Los Angeles To Leave Today For Hampton Roads

(International News Service)
WASHINGTON, Nov. 12. — The dirigible Los Angeles will fly to Hampton Roads today and moor to the mast of the U. S. Patoka, according to a message to the Navy Department this morning from Lakehurst. The message did not state what time the ship would leave Lakehurst.

There's a silver sort of lacing on the windows and the eaves, there's a tracery of frost work on the branches of the trees, there's a whited coat of armor on the cow shed down the lane, and the Jack Frost bunch of artists every evening show a gain. They are artists with their brushes, and the pictures that they draw are the cleverest bits of sketching that a mortal ever saw. Some of them look like a mountain, with a lake down at the base, and some others show a leaning towards a human sort of face. Any place that they can daub it, you can see their silver paint, and the summer loving fellow now sets up his annual plaint. But the most of us are tickled at the pictures that we see on the roof eaves and the windows, weather's cool yet, thirty-three.

PEP MEETING FOR STORES

Large Department Store Using New Method To Arouse Enthusiasm.

(International News Service)

DES MOINES, Ia., Nov. 12—Concerted cheering, such as marks university, college and high school athletic contests, and considered almost as important in college life as the track or football team, has invaded the field of commerce.

Whether college cheer leaders may look forward to the time when they, after a career at college, may turn professional and put their talent for emitting blood curdling noises and performing strange gymnastic figures to further use, remains to be seen. But the fact that cheering and pep meetings have been introduced into business life is established.

A large department store here is using the plan in order to instill enthusiasm into the sales forces, and according to W. G. Cunningham, assistant superintendent, the results are gratifying.

"We adopted this idea after observing results of concerted cheering at football and basketball games," he said. "Everyone has noted that cheering at a football game reacts on the players. It seems to give a sagging team new life, and put fight into the men that often means victory that otherwise would be lost. It was suggested that the same idea might work in business. That the sales force might strive harder for sales if they were divided into groups and organizations. The plan was tried and we consider it successful."

Mr. Cunningham said so far as he knew, the local store was the only organization holding pep meetings.

In the Des Moines store there are from 800 to 1,200 employes. They are divided into seven or eight sections according to the merchandise they handle. Each section has its cheers and songs and its cheer leaders. The sections vie with each other for originality in their cheers and the banners they carry when a pep rally is staged. Snake dances are also in order.

Such rallies are held just before the store opens in the morning. They are not held every day, but usually before a sale is to start. Community singing by the employes also is featured. Prizes for the best record in selling of various kinds of merchandise also are offered to stimulate competition.

FINGER PRINT FACTOR IN MURDER CASE of the slain minister and his choir singer, Mrs. Eleanor Mills, in De Russey's lane on the night of September 14, 1922.

The editor leaned over the railing and fired this answer back at the chief counsel for the defense, Robert M. McCarter, who had been demanding to know "what he gave Schwartz." Schwartz is a finger-print expert.

The New York Mirror had been active in opening the inquiry after four years and it is understood had turned over much evidence to Special Prosecutor Alexander Simpson.

Sent Reporter.

Payne said he sent Herbert Mayer, a Mirror reporter, to Middletown to see Joseph A. Faurot, the Bertillion expert, to get a story in connection with the card.

He said that he had expected the official records of Willie Stevens' fingerprints would be taken to Middletown, but he did not know they were taken, by Mayer or anyone else.

"After you got that card, did you suggest sending it out to Middletown?" asked McCarter.

"No."

"When did you hear it had been taken to Middletown?"

"The same day."

"Where had the card been between the time in July when it was given you and August 17, when it was taken to Middletown?"

"In a steel cabinet in my office in New York. It was wrapped in waxed paper."

McCarter asked the editor how much money the New York Mirror spent on their investigation shortly before the arrest of Mrs. Hall.

Simpson objected, asserting that McCarter was "drawing a red herring across the case," and confusing the jury.

Judge Parker overruled the question.

McCarter sought to bring out that the first "break" in the story was when Arthur S. Riehl brought suit for annulment of his marriage to Louise Geist Riehl, former maid in the Hall home, and that "an attorney for the corporation which employs you drew up the petition for the annulment." Simpson interrupted with an objection, shouting:

"The first 'break' in this case was when Eleanor Mills' throat was cut."

Payne talked in a calm, low voice and at one point McCarter sought to hurry him to which the editor belligerently replied:

"Haven't I as much right to take my time answering your questions as you have to take your time in asking them?"

McCarter glared at him, his pugnacious chin stuck forward.

Payne had told Simpson he received the card about the first of July and that he had given no financial consideration to get it.

McCarter then cross-examined.

"When did you first meet Mr. Schwartz?"

"Several years ago."

"Where did you receive the card?"

"In a Newark hotel".

"How did you learn he had the card?"

"He told me while we were walking along the street in Newark, and asked me to meet him at the hotel."

Payne then said the card was turned over to him in the taxicab just after they left the St. Francis hotel.

"What did you give Schwartz?"

"Nothing material".

"What then?"

"I told Schwartz", said Payne, with great emphasis, "that if he could help clear up this crime he would be doing a great service to the state of New Jersey".

Three Radio Stations Are Opened In Arabia

JERUSALEM, Nov. 12—Progress in Arabia is symbolized by the opening-up of radio communications.

There are at present three radio stations on the Arabian peninsula, and they are connected with the world capitals. The first station is at Medina, the second Holy City of Hedjaz, the second at Al-Taif, the summer resort, and the third is in Ibn Saud's seaport of Jeddah.

Mecca has its own telephone and radio station, which relays news from all parts of Europe to Moslems in the Holy City of Islam.

Town Talk

The New Castle high school girls' band had a part in the Armistice Day parade on Thursday evening. The band made quite an impression, it being perhaps the first public appearance in a civic demonstration by the girls.

Many of the flags used in the Armistice Day celebration were still standing in the curb supports late last night. Evidently many of the persons who put them out forgot to take them in.

The crowd at the parade last night remained on the sidewalk behind the ropes stretched at the curb. This allowed all spectators to view the parade much better than when the crowd moved out into the streets, as heretofore. The ropes are a very good idea, and the police should see to it that when they are put up that the crowd stays behind them, as was the case last night.

For some reason or other a large majority of the persons who marched in the parade last night dropped out at the foot of the Highland avenue hill, and did not complete the march to the high school, where the Armistice Day meeting was held.

Galosh season is with us once again. Quite a number of pairs of galoshes were in evidence about the city this morning, according to reports.

Already the signs are beginning to appear—shop early! Indications are that many are taking the advice in this community.

A young lad was riding a horse through the block signal at Mill and Washington street today, and of course some of the impatient drivers in back of him were in a hurry to get no place at all and furiously honked their horns. How times have changed.

HUNDREDS PARADE IN ARMISTICE DAY

form and civies, on parade last night and they were greeted with applause by the people along the line of march, as were the representatives of the Oversea Women's club.

One of the outstanding features of the parade was the section devoted to the Red Cross. It included a float representing the Red Cross ready for service and a large group of girls, who are receiving the home nursing instructions in this district through the efforts of the Lawrence county chapter of the American Red Cross. This group was especially interesting by reason of the fact that they were garbed in the costumes of the various nationalities among which the work is being carried on and countries where the Red Cross does a great work.

The civic clubs, the Rotary, Kiwanis, Lions and Quota clubs, the carpenters, Spanish-American War Veterans, Sons of Veterans, numerous auxiliaries of the World war, Civil war and Spanish-American war service organizations, civic and fraternal organizations and societies of foreign born citizens had large and representative groups in the parade.

Music was plentiful, there being numerous bands, including the high school, junior high and Croton school bands in the parade formation, also the girls' high school band.

At the senior high school Attorney William J. Caldwell, chairman of the armistice day program, presided.

An interesting part of the program was the opening and other selections of the senior high school band.

Memorial Service.

The invocation was then made by Rev. Samuel L. Maxwell, pastor of the Epworth M. E. church, and a former chaplain in the forces of the United States during the world war.

A vocal selection in keeping with the occasion was rendered by Paul Welsh, accompanied by Mrs. Welsh.

Perhaps the outstanding number of the evening's program other than the address of Attorney Meyer was the memorial service held by Miss Cora Ritchie and Mrs. H. K. Bell of the Overseas Women's club of Lawrence county.

A wreath of evergreen and red poppies was presented with fitting remarks to Attorney Walter W. Braham, past commander of Perry S. Gaston post No. 353, American Legion, by Mrs. Bell, as a memorial to those who gave their lives in the world war.

Attorney Braham accepted it, after which he read the names of deceased veterans of the world war from this district, as far as they are known, numbering 102 is all. As he announced each name Miss Ritchie and Mrs. Bell placed an additional red poppy in the wreath.

Makes Address.

Attorney John D. Meyer of Pittsburgh then made his address, which was an appeal for a greater belief in those principles for which this nation stands and which resulted in this nation having a great part in the world war.

Among other things, Attorney Meyer said: "America rose is her might in the world war as never before in her history, that the principles for which she has stood might remain for herself and the world. She went into the conflict without thought of the cost. It is unfortunate that occasions such as this do not appeal more strongly to greater numbers. It would appear that the people would prefer to take part in those things which appeal more to the joyous than to the sorrows. They seem to want the pleasant things of life. It is one of our duties to encourage the youth of today in the observance of occasions such as these, so that the memories of the sacrifices made in such events as the world war may not be forgotten.

True Americanism.

"To be an American citizen is the greatest thing to possess is all the world. To be an American means freedom, but it should mean freedom only as an American and under the law. Freedom or liberty under the law and with proper regard for others, is what will continue to make America a great force in the world and not a freedom or liberty based on those things without regard to the rights of others.

"True Americanism is that based on obedience to the constitution, and the laws. America is YOU and whether you are a great and good American depends whether or not America will be great. We should reaffirm our belief in the institutions and principles of our fathers, which are the greatest among all men.

"Those persons who defy and break the laws are in the same category as the men of those nations, who in the time of war defy and break over the bounds of humanitarianism in the conduct of war. Such people are without courage or principle, especially those who prey upon the appetites of men. These people must not represent the ideals of America, which is truly great because its people have found their greatest and best happiness in upholding the principles of those who made it a nation and obeying its laws and considering and protecting the rights of others."

The concluding number of the program was the playing the Star Spangled Banner during which the audience stood at attention. The stage setting for the occasion, with its display of American flags and beautiful plants, was beautiful.

The Red Cross section of the parade included groups from all schools of the city and nurses from the New Castle and Shenango Valley hospitals.

The war time program of the Red Cross was shown by representatives of the army navy and Marine corps and a Red Cross nurse. This was followed by the float showing a nurse extending the emblem of the Red Cross to the children of many countries, in native costumes, in disaster relief. One group of grade two children displayed the insignia of the Red Cross.

TEN YEARS OF SOVIETISM

AS RUSSIAN bolshevism swings into its tenth year, all eyes are centered upon that strong man of the communist party, Stalin, who has challenged the old guard and grasped firmly the reins of power in both domestic and foreign affairs.

Stalin was one of the twelve "insiders" who staged the revolution in 1917. Today he faces the two prime failures of orthodox bolshevism; the failure to win over the peasant class and the failure to carry its ideas into the international field.

Of the two failures it is the second which is most significant to the outside world. As for the soviet government, its first concern is the conversion of the Russian peasants, for until Russia herself believes in pure communism how can she expect to convert the world?

Stalin's program seems to call for a soft-pedaling of bolshevist propaganda and activities in other countries and a reaching-out toward normal international relations.

Soviet Russia has been seeking recognition from the United States for more than half a decade without success. Though not wise enough to gain that recognition, she is wise enough to know that without it Russian industries will continue to remain idle and Russian harbors empty.

AN EPIDEMIC OF PRISON ESCAPES

THE recent sensational prison escape from the Ohio Penitentiary when thirteen convicts shot their way to liberty had the usual sequel, for by midnight of the day when they got their first taste of liberty twelve of them were behind prison bars again and the other was retaken a short time later. While it lasted the excitement was intense. Desperate criminals—five of them were serving life terms for murder—are not very choice about their methods, and three of the wardens were knocked down, while bullets flew in every direction. The attack was well timed, because it began as the doors of the institution were opened to admit visitors. The sight of frenzied men armed with knives, bed hooks, table legs and revolvers taken from the prostrate guards was enough to clear the way to freedom. But unfortunately for the convicts it was short-lived. This thrilling scene, coupled with the capture of the fugitives in a cornfield, thirty miles from the penitentiary, furnishes all of the elements of lurid melodrama.

The Columbus incident gains interest because it follows so closely after the attempted jail delivery of the New York Tombs. The blase residents of that city were amazed to think that such a thing could be possible in the very heart of their city. Like the Ohio affair, it took place while visitors were being admitted to the jail. These two events taken with similar escapes in smaller communities suggest the idea of an epidemic of that sort of thing. One of the results will be to tighten the regulations under which the prisons are governed. There was evident laxity in permitting conditions which made such attempts possible. In fact as far back as last May the grand jury in New York City called attention to the possibilities of just such escapes. But as is so often the case, nothing was done. Something will surely be done now and, as usual, precautions and severity will go to extremes.

But, aside from these conditions, the convicts will learn the futility of attempted escapes from prison. The likelihood of making a clean "get-away" is so small as to be infinitesimal. Nearly always the fugitives are captured and returned to prison and their last state becomes worse than their first. Even when they get beyond the reach of the authorities such convicts become like hunted animals, always in fear and trembling and leading a miserable existence. The wise prisoners—if there be any such—take their medicine with as good grace as possible and by good behavior have their sentences shortened. But the wisest of all are those who shun lawlessness and to whom prisons are merely names.

It is commendable for a man to want others to have a good opinion of him, but he should not furnish it ready-made.

We know men who did not have any chance to live in a good environment and who had no good examples set for them in early life, but these same men are all that anyone could expect them to be today in good citizenship, manners, courtesy, or what-not. The answer simply is that it was in them.

The Denver chemist who sent poisoned buckwheat flour to a judge was given 15 years in prison. The pretty miss who says "Hold me tight and kiss me pretty" doesn't last so long in the matrimonial game as the one who turns out good corned beef and cabbage.

We have received a letter from a local citizen who has evidently been stung by a lodge he joined. At least he says he was promised a lot of things that have been denied him since he has had occasion to make claims on the promises made. All we can say to him is that we could not publish this letter. People who join lodges should know what they are joining before they join. It is not a hard matter to find out what a lodge is, especially if there are other lodges in a city that go under the same name as the one you are asked to join. Many get stung because they do not investigate enough.

TODAY'S STORYETTE

As Widow Jones bent industriously over her washtub, she was treated to polite conversation by a male friend who presently turned the conversation to matrimony, winding up with a proposal of marriage.

"Are ye shure ye love me?" sighed the buxom widow as she paused in her wringing.

The man vowed he did.

For a few moments there was silence as the widow continued her labor. Then suddenly she raised her head and asked:

"You ain't lost yer job have yer?"

The speed-hound's life is short. He should have your compassion and sympathy. Allow him his little whim. He likes to pass everything on the highway but please grant him this—for you know he'll soon be passing at the head of a much slower procession. When he's in pieces, he'll rest in peace. The speed-hound's life is very, very short.

The estimated potato crop of the year is big enough that each American, big or little, male and female, can have a little more than three bushels—boiled, baked, mashed, fried or otherwise—otherwise in this case meaning blighted.

We may be wrong about it, but we have a suspicion that most of the 75 Americans who report annual incomes of more than a million dollars had to work longer than union hours and more than five days a week to get there.

Four houses in one neighborhood were robbed in one night, it is presumed by the same housebreakers. Well, that is a systematic way to do it. Christmas shopping early would be a reality if the merchants would help out a little. The men and women who cannot shop only in the evening have to wait until a few days before Christmas to do theirs. With the banks sending out their Christmas savings checks early in December, the stores should be open evenings to stimulate Christmas buying. The stores in the large cities are going after Christmas business earlier this year and most of them are advertising their toy departments now. There is nothing the matter with business except that you have to go after it harder and the way to do that is by being on the job earlier and telling the people where to come to buy.

That Vehement Flame.
World Money Lender.
Farmers Need Canals.
In Japan and Here.

By ARTHUR BRISBANE
(Copyright, 1926, by N. Y. American, Inc.

When the Bible says jealousy hath a most vehement flame it doesnt exaggerate. Horrible testimony given by a doctor as to that killing of Mrs. Mills in the Hall-Mills murder case proves it.

The woman, after three bullets had been fired into her head, was dreadfully mutiliated. Her throat was cut twice, her tongue cut out and there were other horrible wounds inflicted on the dead body. The tongue is supposed to have been cut out because the woman's singing had charmed her clergyman from his straight and narrow path.

* * *

The horrible case will again remind of men that whoever stirs up a jealousy stirs up danger. They have been reminded of it often enough, for five hundred thousand years, by blows on the head with sharp flints, by poison in the middle ages, by pistols later. But they never seem to learn.

Wall street is very proud of having "supplanted London as the world's money lender." This year the United States will lend more than a thousand million dollars in gold to foreign borrowers. In three years past this country has lent Europe four thousand million dollars. Gratifying of course, but when will they get that money back?

* * *

London as world money lender charged usually modrate and always legal rates of interest. Our financers lend money to Europe on a basis that makes the borrower pay at the rate of 13 per cent for the first year, as much as 7 and 8 per cent thereafter.

* * *

The usurer in many states loses principal and interest. Some of those American lenders will get unpleasant replies later when they ask for their principal. Meanwhile it is profitable for middlemen that get the "rakeoff."

All farmers and congressmen are wondering what "can be done for the farmer." The farmer says: "Guarantee me a definite price for my crops." Common sense says that invites over production such as now breaks the price of cotton.

With wheat at $1.40 farmers will increase their acreage by 15 percent. How much wheat would they plant were the price $2.49 which the farmers feel they ought to have? And where would the government get money to buy the surplus $2.49 wheat?

* * *

Farmers can help their wheat situation by backing Secretary Hoover's plan for a canal to the gulf through the Mississippi valley and another from the Great Lakes to the Atlantic ocean.

That would make every bushel of wheat worth from six to 18 cents more.

Since the war railroads have raised rates six to 18 cents a bushel and surplus American wheat on its way to Liverpool pays the tax.

Argentine and Australian wheat has the six to 18 cents advantage per bushel over the American wheat at Liverpool where the price is made.

Things are done differently in different countries. When some German bankers got into trouble they committed suicide. Here they would have gone to Europe.

In Japan an important official is accused of dishonesty. His friends send him a pine coffin containing a neatly made tray and on it a sharp knife in a white scabbard. It is a knife for committing hari-kari. The Japanese is politely requested to rip open his abdoman and die.

Here statesmen accused of stealing a naval oil reserve and requested to come to court say that the constitution is outrageously violated. They think it was made to protect such innocence as theirs.

VALUABLE LEGS

In the realm of finance, recognition must be given to the value of legs as well as heads.

The minister from Finland is reported to have said that the legs of Nurmi, the famous Finnish runner, have been worth to his country—through advertising and stimulating trade—ten million dollars in cold cash.

Someone of a statistical turn of mind has figured this out in terms of cubic inches and pounds.

He announces that Nurmi's legs are worth twenty thousand dollars a cubic inch and a quarter of a million dollars a pound.

The four legs of Epinard, the French race horse brought over to this country a few years ago, were valued at over three hundred thousand dollars.

Other famous legs have brought and wealth to their possessors.

A European dancer has insured her limbs for one hundred thousand dollars to protect them from any injury that would cut off the large revenue she obtains from their use on the stage.

The sturdy underpinnings of "Red" Grange are carrying him toward the million-dollar mark.

The reason some legs are gold mines and others just another pair is that the owner of the valuable shins is able to do something with them better than anyone else can do it.

The reason the four legs of Epinard are worth three hundred thousand and those of the horse that pulls the junk wagon seventy-five is that many horses can pull junk wagons, but only a few can run like the French race horse.

The value of legs, as well as heads and merchandise, is dependent upon their quality in relation to the general run.

When they are infinitely superior they command their own price.

For in every field the big incomes are commanded by the superlative performers.

'TIS DIFFERENT NOW.

Pretty nearly everybody in the world just now wants to become an American citizen. Of course there are exceptions. Queen Marie may like us a lot, but she is satisfied with her job as Queen Consort of Ferdinand and probably she and her family have a greater future in Roumania than she would here in the United States, writing diaries or other literature, or even appearing in American movies. So also are there many influential men and women profiting by their influence among the peoples of foreign Nations. They are well satisfied to remain within their sphere of influence. There are, however, millions of Europeans knocking at the doors of America, crazy to get in. It is the Land of Promise, the Land of Opportunity, the Place Ne Plus Ultra of the world today.

One Morris Neuberger lived in New York prior to 1914. He had at that time filed his first naturalization papers in the United States, proclaiming his desire to become a citizen. The German government, prior to the War, as did every other foreign Government at that time, paid no attention to the desires of one who was German born, and who had been before migrating to the United States, enrolled as eligible for compulsory military service. Neuberger was, before he left Germany, so enrolled and his Kaiser called him to the Colors in 1914. Whether wisely or not, he complied and fought in the German Army throughout the War. In 1921 he returned to the United States, and now has asked the Federal District Court for citizenship papers. He alleges that he has continuously lived in this country since he filed his first naturalization papers. He says, moreover, that his service in the German Army was compulsory. But the District Court of the United States held that he has not resided here legally for five continuous years. Neuberger was not satisfied. He appealed the matter to the Circuit Court of Appeal, and that Court has reversed the District Court, and ruled that he has. The question is now up to the Supreme Court of the Nation to determine this curious question: "Can time served in the German Army, fighting against the United States, be regarded under any circumstances as 'continuous legal residence' in this country?"

I remember very well when Gus Manos of New Castle was summoned to the Colors of Greece, in the days when Gus was of military service age, that he told me he had to go, for he said, "Notwithstanding I am now an American citizen, if I do not answer this call, I can never visit Greece. I will be subject to arrest and punishment by the Greek Government at any time hereafter if I fail to answer the call." And Gus went and served and came back.

It can be seen that this is a very interesting question, not only to lawyers, but to all foreign born citizens. Citizens like Gus may not feel the same way now. The Great War has been fought, and European conditions are changed, but before 1914, this condition faced every foreign born resident of this country, whether citizen or not.

YOUNG

So young, so beautiful, so fair
Upon the cross He died
Age had not silvered white His hair
When Christ was crucified.

So young to die He seemed, and yet
Were longer life allowed
Who knows what snares His feet had met,
What mockings from the crowd?

Had age made pitiful His eye
And withered Him with strife
He might have left, as you and I
Little to mark His life.

God called Him when His work was done
From all that life may hold,
Knowing the dangers they must run

POEMS I LOVE

BY CHARLES HANSON TOWNE

"In Service," by Winifred Letts.

Miss Letts is the author of that fine war poem, "The Spires of Oxford," and here we find her in quite another mood. This is a clear portrait of a lonely girl, and just as the greatest painters get not only the features of their sitters, but strive to put the soul on canvas, so here Miss Letts probes deep, and in the restricted space of a few stanzas gives us a complete likeness. It takes a certain genius thus to get on paper so definite an outline.

Little Nellie Cassidy has got a place in town.
She wears a fine white apron,
She wears a new black gown,
An' the quarest little cap at all with straymers hanging down.

I met her one fine evening stravag-in' down the street,
A feathered hat upon her head,
And boots upon her feet.
"Och, Mick," says she, "may God be praised that you and I should meet.
'Tis lonesome in the city with such a crowd," says she;
"I'm lost without the bog-land,
I'm lost without the sea,
An' the harbor an' the fishing-boats that sail out fine and free.

"I'd give a golden guinea to stand upon the shore,
To see the big wave lepping,
To hear them splash and roar,
To smell the tar and the drying-nets, I'd not be asking more.

"To see the small white houses, their faces to the sea,
The children in the doorway,
Or round my mother's knee;
For I'm strange and lonesome missing them, God keep them all," says she.

Little Nellie Cassidy earns fourteen pounds and more,
Waiting on the quality,
And answering the door—
But her heart is some place far away upon the Wexford shore.

Texas Students Bring Cows And Chickens To Dairy School To Help Pay Expenses

(International News Service)

LUBBOCK, Texas, Nov. 12.—Mary, who allowed her lamb to follow her to school, hasn't a thing on several students attending Texas Technological College, here. They have brought their cows to school.

The cows are helping pay the ways of the students through school, with the students selling milk extracted during their spare time when they are not extracting knowledge from books.

The Student Dairy of Texas Tech, organized last spring with six members, now has 17 members. Each students has brought his favorite Jersey or Holstein from Dad's farm, at No Telling Where, Texas. Part of the college dairy barn has been placed at the disposal of the students, with certain sanitary regulations.

Many residents of Lubbock are patronizing the student dairy, helping the youths defray expenses.

Now, some of the students have inquired if permission will be forthcoming from school officials, to allow them to bring a coop of chickens to school with them, so they may sell eggs as a side line.

Will Use Sun To Forecast Weather

WASHINGTON, Nov. 12.—Convincing evidence that changes in solar radiation have a pronounced effect on world weather has been presented by H. H. Clayton, expanent of long distance forecasting, in a paper recently published by Smithsonian Institute.

Clayton refers to "gratifying results of a second year of long range forecasting of actual temperatures for the City of New York, based on solar radiation data."

This authority uses data prepared by Dr. C. S. Abbot, astrologer at Smithsonian, on variations of the sun's heat to forecast future temperatures.

Eventually it is expected that the method will be tried out by the United States Weather Bureau which at the present time will make exact predictions not over forty-eight hours in advance. The weather bureau makes general forecasts for a week or more.

Weather Bureau officials, although not yet committed to the long distance forecasting, declare that if such a system can be developed successfully, millions of dollars will be saved to business and agriculture of the United States annually.

The New York forecasts, referred to by Clayton, were made daily five days in advance. They show that, in the average, 188 days predicted normal were so within .5 degree; and 59 days predicted 4 degrees above normal averaged 2.2 degrees higher in temperature.

"No one else in the world has even ventured to predict the exact temperature of a definite spot for a definite day five days in advance," Clayton said. "It would not have succeeded without the solar radiation observations."

"The most striking and understandable of Clayton's proofs of the effect of solar variation on world weather is a table containing 20 different cases for different years and different parts of the world, disclosing changes dependent to a degree varying from 50 to 90 per cent on changes in the sun's heat," an official statement from Smithsonian said.

BEWARE THE COUGH OR COLD THAT HANGS ON

Persistent coughs and colds lead to serious trouble. You can stop them now with Creomulsion, an emulsified creosote that is pleasant to take. Creomulsion is a new medical discovery with two-fold action: it soothes and heals the inflamed membranes and inhibits germ growth.

Of all known drugs, creosote is recognized by high medical authorities as one of the greatest healing agencies for persistent coughs and colds and other forms of throat troubles. Creomulsion contains, in addition to creosote, other healing elements which soothe and heal the infected membranes and stop the irritation and inflammation, while the creosote goes on to the stomach, is absorbed into the blood, attacks the seat of the trouble and checks the growth of the germs.

Creomulsion is guaranteed satisfactory in the treatment of persistent coughs and colds, bronchial asthma, bronchitis and other forms of respiratory diseases, and is excellent for building up the system after colds or flu. Money refunded if any cough or cold is not relieved after taking according to directions. Ask your druggist. Advertisement.

Swearing Causes Divorce Grounds

San Francisco Husbands Lose Wives In Divorce Court Through Swearing

TALL PRISONER FILLS SMALL JAIL

By MILLER HOLLAND
International News Service Staff Correspondent

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 12.—A couple of San Francisco husbands have just lost their wives in the divorce courts because of too much profanity—profanity on the part of said husbands.

Mrs. Millie Page charges that Peter Page swears so much around the house that matrimony is no longer possible.

And Mrs. Antoinette White makes a similar complaint against Thomas F. White. His vocabulary is entirely too rich and fragrant (flagrant?) for her, she declares.

Both ladies say they would much rather have no husband at all than one of the swearing variety.

The Oakland city prison was put to it the other night to accommodate the tallest prisoner ever booked in that institution.

He was Elmer Noakes, 31, address unknown. He was picked up on a charge of vagrancy by begging.

The prisoner measured six feet seven inches. He said he used to be a painter because he needed no scaffold or ladder for ordinary painting work.

The regulation prison cots were too short, so jail officials had to lay a couple of blankets end to end on the floor to make Elmer comfy for the night.

This thing of gentlemen preferring blondes sort of got under the skin of Willa Okker, San Francisco, newspaper lady. She investigated the matter and has just come out with the announcement that what gentlemen prefer is "blahs".

What is a blah? Let Willa answer:

"A blah", she says, "is a creature devoid of brains or at least one who is not troubled with the active use of such excess freight. She is a creature, beautiful and desirable enough to swell the gentleman's prehistoric pride of possession. She offers herself up as a sarficice to satisfy the gentleman's ego.

"Oh yes—it's blah the gentlemen of today want and perhaps because blondes have more blah to offer is the reason it has been quietly hinted that they prefer blondes—but really, gentlemen prefer blahs."

From all of which it might be gathered that Willa isn't a blonde.

Shiek haircuts for men and bobbed hair for women have spelled unprecedented prosperity for the barber trade, according to San Francisco members of the tonsorial business.

"Contrary to general belief", says Joe Woicke, local barber, "the barber trade increased 100 per cent when the safety razor came into vogue.

"And when the college boys began brushing their hair back above the ears like Valentino, the trade reached tremendous proportions.

"When bobbed hair became the rage we had to put in extra chairs."

Throwing light on the apparent safety razor paradox, Joe said:

"When the men began to shave themselves they spent their surplus money in the barber shop for massages, facials and more haircuts. This increased our earnings and left the customers more beautiful and satisfied."

Johnson Bronze Company Will Share Convention

To Have Display At Chicago—Local Officials To Attend Gathering

The National Standard Parts Association, of which the Johnson Bronze Company of New Castle is a charter member, will hold its annual convention beginning Monday, in Chicago. There are 224 members of the association. The replacement parts industry is only five years old, but has made wonderful growth.

As a member of the association, the Johnson Bronze Company will have a display at the convention. Paul Marceau, attache of the local plant, is already in Chicago, and when the convention opens it will be attended by P. J. Flaherty, president and general manager of the Johnson Bronze Company, and Roy R. Gibson and other employes and salesmen.

The organization is made up of manufacturers and jobbers who sell automobile parts to replace original equipment when cars are brought into repair shops. The manufacturers include, in some instances, makers of original parts for the automobile manufacturer. The jobbers, who are the outlets of the manufacturers in the replacement end of the business, sell to garages in their communities.

Many of the manufacturers went into the business of turning out replacement parts in 1921 and 1922, when automobile companies began to make increasing quantities of their own parts. The parts companies kept producing the same parts they had been making for a long time, but instead of selling to the automobile manufacturer, they sold to the public through jobbers and garages.

The jobbing business is itself largely of recent growth. It came into existence as the source of supply for thousands of garages which make repairs on all makes of automobiles, but are not themselves the service branches of the automobile companies. These jobbers keep stocks of replacement parts for all new and obsolete models of the American cars.

BUTLER DEDICATES MONUMENT TO DEAD OF WORLD DEBACLE

BUTLER, Pa., Nov. 12. — The feature of Armistice Day observance was the dedication of a monument in Memorial park to Butler county soldiers who gave their lives in the World War.

The monument, 18 feet high, consists of a marble base and heroic size bronze figure of a doughboy. The dedication was sponsored by the American Legion and Veterans of Foreign Wars. The cost, $5,000, was borne jointly by Butler county and Butler city. The site is to be maintained as a perpetual memorial.

NUT SONGS NOW HOLD SWAY IN TIN PAN ALLEY

Animal And Vegetable Kingdom Types In Melody Land

NEW YORK, Nov. 12.—"Nut" songs are backing the pretty sentiments of yesterday's jazz ballads off the keyboards, if you believe the "music in the air" today.

The recent craze for nut songs, the "big laugh" numbers instead of sentimental blues and waltzes is expressing itself in an avalanche of silly verse dealing as an animal and vegetable kingdom new to melody land, say leaders of jazz orchestras on Broadway.

"Today, instead of 'Going Back to Normandy' or 'Sailing to Ceylon on a Silver Sea,' or 'Drifting in the Moonlight—No-one Knows Where,' people are going wild about 'Animal Crackers,' or the 'Horses, Horses, Horses,'" said George Olsen, author of several popular merry-go-rounds.

"They want to laugh when they dance, not sink into sentiment," he said.

"Yes, We Have No Bananas," started it all, think the dance rhythm arbiters. Since then there have been a flock of imitations. "Peanuts, five cents a bag," "What, No Spinach?" and "She Knows Her Onions" are samples. None of them have obtained the success of "Bananas," however.

The hit made by "Horses" brought a procession out of song writers' arks, among them being "Where is My Blue Kangaroo?" and "I'm Going to Ride My Crocodile Back to the Nile." Even Mother Goose has played her ingenious part in the nut song craze. Gilded youth apparently hiding beneath its synical exterior the heart of a child now Charlestons by choice to "Hey Diddle Diddle, the Cat and the Fiddle, the Cow Jumped Over the Moon."

And the sweetie who couches his missing heart-beat for his own jazz baby in the skipping rhythms of the fox trot, "Hi, Ho the Merrio, as Long as She Loves Me."

Song publishers are all on the lookout for nut songs, they say. These comics are the big, quick sellers. They will sell to the tune of 250,000 copies a season and then they are dead. A ballad like "All Alone" or "Always" lasts much longer,, but sells more slowly. The dancers laugh fast, but keep their blues longer.

May Melt Rings To Pay Taxes

(International News Service)

PARIS, Nov. 12.—A novel way of reducing the French national debt has been proposed by an ingenious Frenchman anxious to see his country in better conditions.

The population of the country comprises about 8,000,000 married people nearly every one of which wears a gold wedding ring. Very rarely does one see a couple without two gold rings. The men say it is a safeguard; the women think it proper to wear one. Each ring contains abount five grams of gold and is worth about 20 francs.

Simple arithmetic shows that 800,000000 francs worth of gold are really going to waste when they could do much toward relieving national necessities.

The Frenchman proposes that every married person sacrifice his wedding ring on the altar of his country. Clever French jewelers will soon contrive other rings of baser metal which will serve the purpose just as well.

Three O'clock Tea Idea Spreads In New York

(By ARTHUR WIMER)

NEW YORK, Nov. 12.—Mention the Englishman's four o'clock tea to the average American and he smiles. Suggest to him that America is adopting the custom and he will laugh outright. And yet lower New York, the busiest section of the busiest city in the world pauses at three o'clock every work-a-day afternoon to recover its breath and sip the cup of good fellowship. True, perhaps, it may be coffee or hot chocolate instead of tea, and the tete-a-tete over the cups may be brief, but it is Wall Street's afternoon tea.

How often has America stopped to wonder aloud at the practice abroad where business halts for four o'clock tea. Kettles and cups in London offices attract many smiles. And yet Americans are no longer free from the same sort of weakness.

Down in Wall Street and lower Broadway where narrow streets and tall buildings give the working world a peculiar air of concentration and serious things, a new maxim is acquiring a good following. "All work and no eating makes business a dull thing," is the attitude being adopted by both boss and clerk alike. And as a result the business man's three o'clock tea has come into existence, a brief moment when employer and employe meet in desk parties, forget their troubles, and enjoy a cup of tea or a sandwich.

Soda fountains and many good refreshment shops of lower Manhattan make provision to care for this special demand every afternoon. One shop of Nassau street in particular caters to this betwee meals lunch of big business.

As three o'clock approaches t shop prepares for the afterno tea. The coffee urns are refille Fresh bottles of milk are put ice. Great piles of sandwiches a stacked on trays. A special cor of delivery boys and small cover pushcarts are mobilized. And th the telephone begins to ring.

"This is the busiest time of t day," explained the woman man ger of the shop when interviewe "Some days the telephone nev stops. The American business ex cutive laughs at the English, an yet he wants his tea. And when h calls he wants it in a hurry, too.

"There is no limit to the thing that are rushed from our shop int the skyscrapers of Wall street. I the winters it is mostly hot choco late. But in the summer every thing is ordered—ice cream soda malted milk, egg drinks, sandwich es, pie, cake, candy—everything.

This mid-afternoon lunch ha become a new point of contact be tween employer and employe. Often it happens that the boss on a hot day will treat the entire force. This puts a new zest into the work and sows the seed of good will.

According to the manager of one refreshment shop, some men leave standing orders for every day. Others suddenly telephone when the desire seizes them.

One afternoon, the manager recalled, an unexpected order almost threw the shop out of equilibrium. An office in Wall street wanted to feed its entire force on coffee, sandwiches, ice cream and cake. It was the birthday of a genial boss. With much hustling on the part of delivery boys and the complete exhaustion of stock, the order was filled, and another Wall street afternoon tea was successful.

Coal Strike Sends British Taxes Up

By F. A. WRAY
International News Service Staff Correspondent

LONDON, Nov. 12.—A heavy increase in British taxation on account of the coal strike—already computed to have cost the country $2,000,000,000—is forecasted by Sir Robert Horne, ex-Chancellor of the Exchequer.

"Instead of Britain selling $100,000,000 of coal abroad during the past four months," said Horne, "she has imported $100,000,000 worth of coal just to keep the country.

"The balance of trade has been completely upset. The ordinary adverse balance of imports over exports has been added to by $205,000,000.

"After bringing in invisible exports, the Board of Trade last year were able to find a margin for $140,000,000 for investment, and it is plain that unless shipowners are able to add to the earnings of Britain, this margin has long since disappeared. It is quite possible that the Government in the near future may have to raise the Bank rate in order to stop the drain of gold from Britain needed to pay our debts.

"This will impose an additional drain on business men which most bankers are anxious to avoid.

"The Chancellor of the Exchequer may also have to increase the burdens which Britain is bearing, in order to meet the gap between revenue and expenditure.

"I hope one result of the situation will be to bring home to every section of the people the fact that we are living in a condition of barbarism rather than of civilization if we allow the present method of continuing our industrial disputes to continue.

"If Britain receives another blow like the coal strike she may never recover."

Excitement In Oklahoma Fields

(International News Service)

TULSA, Okla., Nov. 12.—Excitement in oil circles is rising to a frenzied pitch over the new production records being set up almost daily in Seminole field, Oklahoma's most sentational oil area today.

This pool, in western Seminole county passed the 120,000 barrel mark a few days ago and field men of the major companies watching developments there are predicting that it will go as high as 200,000 barrels a day.

The enthusiasm over the field can easily be understood considering that only two months ago its production had not reached 15,000 barrels.

It must amuse a rabbit to see one hunter jump and howl when another shoots.

West Virginia In Political Fight Astonished By Ouster Of Auditor

By J. L. MEDDOFF
International News Service Staff Correspondent

CHARLESTON, W. Va., Nov. 12.—For the first time in the colorful and, at times, turbulent history of West Virginia, a state auditor has been summarily ousted from office for alleged malfeasance.

And in the wake of his removal by Governor Howard M. Gore, who relinquished the agricultural portfolio in President Coolidge's cabinet in 1924 to head his native state's government, John C. Bond, the deposed auditor, stands today under court indictment on charges of betraying the trust of the voters who put him in office.

Twice elected as state auditor, Bond had two years to serve out his second term. He was conceded an excellent chance for the Republican gubernatorial nomination in 1928. His political star was shining luminously and ascending rapidly when, in mid-October, it was extinguished and jerked into dark oblivion with startling suddenness by Governor Gore.

Ominous rumblings and perturbing rumors finally resulted in a hearing in the Governor's office, attended by Bond. At its conclusion, the executive made known that he had ordered Bond's removal forthwith.

This peremptory action, coupled with the stunning swiftness of events, struck over the state with the numbing force of a tropical storm.

And a scant ten days later, while the West Virginia public was emerging from the shock, a special grand jury, hastily summoned, returned in Kanawha county intermediate court here three indictments containing 62 counts against the deposed state auditor.

The indictments charged him with forgery, larceny and embezzlement in connection with the handling of the funds entrusted to his care by the public that had chosen him for the job.

Shortly before the jury indictments were returned, Bond entered voluntary bankruptcy proceedings in Federal Court here, listing liabilities of $90,000 and assets of $64,000.

His only utterance in connection with his bankruptcy petition was that he not only had been ruined politically, but also financially, and he intimated that he had been made the victim of Machiavelian political enemies.

Bond's office was turned over to Secretary of State George W. Sharp, the ousted auditor announcing his intention of fighting Governor Gore's action in the state supreme court.

When the graud jury indictments were returned, however, Bond's friends said the supreme court appeal had been abandoned.

In court circles here is was believed today that Bond would not be brought to trial for some time, since the court docket is crowded with criminal cases expected to occupy the next several months.

McConnell Gives Idea Of Progress Being Made By Chinese

By ED FRITZ

Educational and moral inspiration is the continuous program being carried on in China by the Y. M. C. A. and other Christian organizations, according to T. C. McConnell, Y industrial secretary at Foochow, China, in the U. S. on a 12 months furlough.

While this does not receive big headlines and much newspaper space, it is far more important, according to McConnell than the Chinese civil war and other things that do receive glaring captions and columns of space.

"From these schools and churches and from the service programs of the Y. M. C. A. there is being poured into the public life of China, an ever enlarging storm of men and women who are bringing to the various phases of Chinese life her standards and greater efficiency than China has ever known before," he said today.

"The majority of posts in the custom service, postoffice service, railway service and teachers in the government schools are being occupied by the products of these Christian schools and the influence that these Christian men and women are exerting for good in China is far greater than the proportion in the total number of Chinese people would seem to show.

"During the past year, since May 30, 1925, many Christian organizations have been going through the fires of opposition and criticism. This has been largely directed at the institutions and commercial houses of the British and Japanese. A great deal of the inspiration and power for this movement has come from Russian sources, but back of this, as is also back of the Cantonese and Kuo Ming Chun movements in the northwest, is an intense spirit of nationalism; much of which has been stirred up and developed along lines learned from western nations.

"With this nationalism, when not carried to radical and violent extremes, the Christian organizations have no quarrel. Those Christian organizations which have been definitely undertaking to develop Chinese leadership and to give that Chinese leadership, responsibility and authority, have had comparatively little difficulty during the past year.

"The majority of American church missionaries have moved in this direction before they were forced to. The more forward thinking British missions have also moved in this direction more rapidly than their headquarters in London was sometimes ready to approve.

"The Y. M. C. A. is especially fortunate in this situation, in having been built from the beginning on the principles of ultimate self-support, self-control and self-propagation. Evidence of progress in all three lines are seen in the number of Chinese as executive heads of local boards of directors, national executive heads and the very large budgets carried locally for current expenses.

"As a result the Chinese do not feel that the Y. M. C. A. is a foreign organization and are ready to support and defend it as such. One interesting phase of the anti-Christian movement during the past four years has been the fact that almost all of the criticism against Christian organizations and individuals, has not been criticism of the principles and ideals of Jesus.

"But it has been almost entirely a criticism of these organizations, nations and individuals, known as Christians, but who have failed to live up to the teachings of Jesus and to the simple principles and spirit of Christianity.

"As a result of this situation, the influence of this anti-Christian movement has probably been more beneficial to the churches and nations calling themselves Christian than anything else that could have happened. The more liberal minded missionaries generally recognize this."

Industrially, China is reaching out. There has been a big extension of the cotton and silk industries especially around cities located on or near water routes. The plants are built along the models of those in the United States and Great Britain.

McConnell said that the industries have also taken over some of the evils as well as the strong points. Strikes have occurred and the combination of Russian communists and the student influence have an influence in stirring up strikes. He added that the probobilities are that improved conditions will result but at present the Chinese are copying, rather than creating.

Referring to former industrial conditions, the present conditions are better than those of 'Old China' in regard to hours, wages and almost every other condition but compared to American conditions, they are bad.

"In Foochow, my given work has been largely in cultivating the industrial spirit of leaders. Industry in Foochow is being modernized. The improvements are made along lines that will win employes co-operation, rather than antagonism."

In fact, Mr. McConnell's task is a promotion of educational work in the ships and villages. With a 95 per cent illiteracy among Chitrial democracy as has been worked out in America are hardly practical in China, as yet and much depends upon paternalism.

He said that shortly before leaving on his furlough the Foochow Y graduated 185 who had completed a course of four months study, passed an examination which showed they had a working knowledge nese workers, the forms of industrial of 1,000 characters. This means they would be able to read and write simple Chinese.

"This type of work is the form of service which the Y has been doing for the illiterate Chinese. A program of citizen training has been prepared for those who can read and write in addition to Bible study, and moral education."

Widows And Widowers Form New Social Club

Boston Has Unique Organization—Has Flourished For Seven Years

(International News Service)

BOSTON, Nov. 12.—Boston, long known to the universe as a seat of culture and social atmosphere that ranks with the best has many clubs, societies and civic organizations. Most of them are well known to the general public but one which functions quietly and with much pleasure to those who hold membership, is the "Widows and Widowers Social Club, Inc."

This colorful and satisfying social club has flourished for seven years. It is just what the name implies, a social organization for widows and widowers. All members must be at least 35 years old, as in the words of one of the officials, "no young fry are admitted, the older the better."

The club has a reading room and other convenient facilities for members. Every Monday night in the year, regardless of season or weather, a dance is conducted for members and friends.

Among the most prominent members of the society are several veterans of the Civil war. Widows of veterans of that war are also prominent in the rank. Many members live miles outside of Boston but seldom do they miss a gathering of the society.

Though the society does not boast of any matrimonial activities still occasionally twilight romances bloom in their midst and a grand time is the wedding. The entire club membership gets behind the festivities and after presenting the blushing couple with suitable gifts, instead of expelling them from the club elect them to honorary membership for life. In seven years that the club has existed there have been four marriages among the members and another couple are now engaged.

Many of the club members are well-to-do financially, but for the same reason that the other members belong, they gather—to meet and talk with people of their own generation and forget the loneliness of old age.

$434,519,660 In Minerals Mined By Cal. In 1925

Slight Decrease In Gold Production, But Year Sees General Increase

55 Different Substances Listed, In Addition To Precious Gems

By MILLER HOLLAND
International News Service Staff Correspondent

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 12—California produced $434,519,660 worth of minerals in 1925, an increase of $59,898,871 over the 1924 total, according to the compilation just completed by the statistical division of the state mining bureau, under direction of Lloyd L. Root, state mineralogist.

The compilation lists 55 different mineral substances, exclusive of a segregation of the various stones grouped under gems. All the 58 counties of the state contributed to the list.

Gold production for the year showed a slight decrease, the statistics show, but in spite of this California continued to account for approximately 30 per cent of the gold output of the United States. Value of the gold yield was $13,065,330.

A feature of the report was the considerable increase in value of the 1925 petroleum yield, 232,492,147 barrels of petroleum valued at $330,609,829 having been produced during the year, increases of 3,558,676 barrels and $55,956,955 over 1924.

Increase in Cement.

Material advances were also made by cement, miscellaneous stone, zinc, lead and quicksilver, while decreases were registered by brick and hollow building blocks and by salt.

Copper, silver and pottery clay fairly held their own with only slight drops in total value. The silver yield was 3,054,416 fine ounces, valued at $2,119,765, and copper production was 46,968,499 pounds valued at $6,669,527.

Lead production increased from 4,984,387 pounds worth $398,751 in 1924 to 7,452,422 pounds worth $639,661 in 1925; zinc from 3,060,000 pounds and $198,000 to 11,546,602 pounds and $877,542; quicksilver from 7,948 flasks and $543,080 to 7,683 (correct) and $621,831, and platinum from 273 fine ounces and $36,452, to 292 fine ounces and $39,937.

In the structural group cement advanced from 11,655,131 barrels in 1924, worth $23,225,850, to 13,206,630 barrels in 1925, worth $25,043,335, and granite from a valuation of $1,211,046 to $1,853,859.

Minerals Listed.

Of the industrial group, as is usually the case, there were a number of fluctuations, mineral being the only ones to show material increases. Of the salines, calcium chloride, potash and soda increased in value, with the borates, magnesium salts and common salt decreasing.

The following minerals are listed in the compilation:

Asbestos, bituminous rock, borates, brick and hollow building tile, cement, chromite, clay (pottery), coal, copper, colomite, feldspar, Fullers' earth, gems ,gold, granite, gypsum, lead, lime, limestone, magnesite, magnesium salts, manganese ore, marble, mineral paint, mineral water, natural gas, onyx and travertine, petroleum, platinum, potash, pumice and volcanic ash, pyrites, quicksilver, salt, sandstond, silica (sand and quarz) silver, soapstone and talc, soda, stone (miscellaneous), tungsten concentrates and zinc.

Natural gas production in the state during the period under survey was 194,719,924 M. cu. ft. The value was $15,890,082.

Of the 58 counties in the state Los Angeles county showed the greatest mineral production value —$193,180,000. This was because of the great oil fields in the Los Angeles area.

Rum Runners Scatter Tacks Along Highway

(International News Service)

VANCOUVER, B. C., Nov. 12.—Bootleggers and rum runners along the Manitoba-Minnesota border are operating their high powered automobiles and trucks equipped with a special device that strews heavy roofing tacks over the road in their rear when being pursued according to advices received here from Winnipeg.

Two cars captured at the border were found to have a tray fitted beneath the gas tank with a shutter operated by a lever cointrolled from the driver's seat. When the shutter opens a shower of tacks with large heads spread out fan shape over the road. It invariably ends the pursuit of the fugitives.

Police cars pursuing rum runners picked up tacks of the pattern found in the confiscated cars. The two cars captured also have specially constructed compartments to increase the capacity for transporting liquor.

Some Decrease In Grove City Building

Town However Is Showing Steady Expansion And Growth—Other News

(Special To The News)

GROVE CITY, Pa., Nov. 12. — The winter building program in Grove City is conspicuous by its absence this year, contractors report.

The fall is the first since the war that has not found the town with a home building program for winter. The about face condition here came with this spring when home buying fell off to a noticeable degree.

Despite the fact that there is no winter home building program there are now for rent in the town only a few houses that are being held for sale by their owners who have moved out and will not rent, fearful of sale chances.

Optimism of the future is voiced at this time in the commercial, theatrical and church building program underway. A program of $500,000 in church building, commercial building that would total $200,000 and the start of a $150,000 theatre are all evidences of the community growth for the year. Of the churches the First Presbyterian and Educational Building of the Grace Methodist and the Church of Beloved Disciple (Catholic) have been started with the first two completed and dedicated and the last named under roof. The Holstem-Blair block of three store rooms, the new Albin meat market, the P. L. Shelley and J. C. Fisher blocks on Broad street and the John McDowell building on College avenue outline the commercial enterprises while the theatre is the project of J. M. Guthrie, manager of the Majestic.

The Commercial Club of Grove City College was addressed at the recent November meeting by R. M. Montgomery, manager of the Montgomery Broom Works. Mr. Montgomery talk to the collegians on the topic of broom making.

A paper was read by Miss Mary George of the club which is an organization of the students in the business department.

The club is one of the few college organizations in the country. From its ranks are commandered managers, advertising men, publicity men for the various student activities. It is the organization of Prof. R. G. Walters who is head of this department.

Mid-West States To Have Bus Show

(International News Service)

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., Nov. 12.—A monster motor bus show, including co-operation by bus firms from five states, is being planned for Springfield by delegates to the annual convention of the Illinois Motor Transportation association. The five states concerned are Indiana, Iowa, Missouri, Wisconsin and Illinois.

An appeal to a larger market for manufacturers and better organization and co-operation for operators are arguments being used to foster the plan.

Chester G. Moore, Joliet, executive vice-president of the Illinois association, expressed confidence that the project would be driven through to a successful conclusion.

Prize Beauty Wears Dog Collar

(International News Service)

PARIS, Nov. 12.—France's most beautiful woman of 1926, Mademoiselle Jacqueline Shally, has just started the fashion of wearing a dog collar about her pretty throat. It is made of fine leather, lined with velvet and studded with nails of gold, silver or precious stones.

Many of the smartest Parisiennes have taken up the fad. Most curious are the little black and white hairs which stick out just as on an honest-to-goodness bull-dog's necklace.

Life Of Governor-Elect Of Pennsylvania Has Been One Of Variety

JOHN S. FISHER

The story of the rise of John S. Fisher, newly elected governor of Pennsylvania, reads like a Horatio Alger novel. It is a tale of a rise from obscurity and poverty to the highest office his state can give him. It's a long step from the log cabin, with its chinked walls and warped clay-plastered ceiling, in which he was born, to the state capitol building. But that's the step Governor-elect Fisher has made.

Life has been a varied thing for Pennsylvania's new head. He has been a school principal, a farmer, a lawyer, a business man and a prominent figure in politics. He was born in South Mahoning township, Indiana county, Pa., May 25, 1867. His father named him for his best friend, John Sturchell, who served with him in the Civil war and who was a lifelong friend of the Fisher family.

As a small boy Fisher solved his own problem of getting an education by going to the town of Indiana, Pa., entering the public school there and doing chores in return for board at the home of a friend.

He was a graduate from the State Normal school of Pennsylvania in 1886 and was admitted to the bar in 1893. He was a member of the Pennsylvania senate, 1901 to 1909 and was chairman of the capitol investigating commission, which exposed the frauds in connection with the erection of the state capitol building at Harrisburg. He was appointed commissioner of banking for Pennsylvania January 31, 1919, and also was a member of the commission on constitutional amendment and revision of Pennsylvania.

Mr. Fisher has been identified with the banking, railroad real estate, coal and electric power business for several years. He has a son who was graduated from Harvard and who recently was admitted to the bar in Indiana, Pa. He also has a daughter. Mrs. Fisher died a few years ago.

The governor-elect is tall and quiet, with a soft voice and a ready smile. Little crinkles about his eyes hint at the tolerance with which he looks out upon the world. Deep lines between his eyes testify to the sternness with which he faces the problems the world presents.

He served as a member of the Republican national convention in 1916. He is a member of the United Presbyterian church and resides at Indiana, Pa.

Greek Divers Excel As Sponge Fishermen

Control Deep Sea Industry Of Tunis And European Coasts

Greeks excel as sponge fishermen, and control in Tunis and Europe the industry from time immemorial connected with the bath, says Nation's Health. Sponge fishing in the Far East, the publication states, is pursued in four ways:

By naked divers, the least common method, practised only by African natives.

With a grapple, the trident of the ancients. The fisherman detaches the sponges from the sea bottom with this implement. The method, however, can only be used in water less than ten meters deeps.

By means of strong drag nets drawn along the sea bottom and catching up the sponges. These nets are drawn by small sailing vessels on waters 20-30 meters deep. This method is practiced by the Italians.

By divers who are able to attain in diver's dress a depth of 70 meters (about 230 feet).

Sponges taken at this depth are said to be of a superior quality and the divers are exclusively Greeks. The vessel carrying the divers is accompanied by a large craft carrying stores and having space for storing the catch. Two vessels of this character remain at sea during the whole fishing season and are served by a third vessel which plies to and fro carrying supplies and taking back the sponges. The sponge season lasts about ten months and is divided into two periods, from Christmas to Easter and from St. George's Day (April 3), until the Feast of St. Dimitri (October 26).

The crew of a vessel consists of twenty to twenty-five hands, a captain, ten to twelve sailors, and ten to twelve divers.

Permanent Tax Reduction Move Is Not Favored

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, Nov. 12. — As an argument against a permanent tax reduction at the December congress, the treasury estimated today that government receipts in the 1928 fiscal year will drop off about $200,000,000 as compared with the income for the year ending next June.

Treasury officials indicated they would not favor a corporation tax cut at the next congress since this would involve a permanent revision of tax rates.

Secretary of the Treasury Mellon said that during the present year a number of items of income, which will not be available in the future, will swell the government surplus and make possible the proposed $250,000,000 credit to tax payers.

Included in the non-recurring income will be about $60,000,000 as the proceeds from foreign loan bonds, $100,000,000 in back taxes and $40,000,000 repaid by railroads.

Suggests Another Route To Eliminate Danger Of Youngstown Hill

New Castle, Pa.,
R. F. D. No. 2
Nov. 10, '26.

Editor News:
Dear Sir:

Perusing an article in your paper, for the change in route via Grandview avenue from Youngstown road, to West Washington street extension, I feel, I must submit the route which sometime in the near future will be an absolute necessity, as it will decrease the mileage and eliminate the dangerous curves between our city and Youngstown.

At what is known as the Parkstown cross roads, the road west runs to Edenburg, north to the Harbor, east to New Castle and south to West Washington street extension. Everyone has read of a part of the fatalities which have occurred at these cross roads but only a part of them. This road leading south should and will be improved to New Castle via Atlantic avenue. However this is not the route that will relieve the mileage and also the fatalities of our present route.

If you will investigate you will find the state of Ohio has a brick road to our state line east of the Penn-Ohio Electric Co.'s Power station at Lowellville. They, of course expect Pennsylvania to connect with this road via Edenburg to follow the car line from Edenburg to meet West Washington street extension. This will make the best and shortest route between Youngstown and New Castle and will eliminate at least 75 per cent of the present accidents because it is practically straight.

Gen. Pershing Scores Political Slush Funds Use

(International News Service)

CHICAGO, Nov. 12.—General John J. Pershing, in an armistice day address here Thursday departed from the usual tenor of patriotic day addresses and in no uncertain terms condemned political slush funds.

"In the light of recent events in certain states, some of our citizens would modify the methods of selecting candidates for office," he said.

"If the present system encourages or permits the contribution of inordinate sums by wealthy candidates or their supporters it should receive the most careful scrutiny by honest citizens.

"The presumption that large expenditures for campaign purposes may be made without ulterior motive does not appear to be warranted.

"If the time ever comes when public offices can be virtually bought and sold either directly or indirectly, then the downfall of the republic will not be far off."

Gen. Pershing spoke before a gathering of Kiwanis clubs of Chicago and the central states. The keynote of his speech was a plea for the continuance in peace times of the patriotic and good citizenship that marked the world war period.

Responsibility for the country's enormous crime record was placed by him squarely at the door of the people.

IT'S A "CROOL" WORLD

NEW YORK—Lieut. William Hicks, doughty Bronx fire fighter, has been served hot coffee and sandwiches frequently by kindly folk while fighting fires in and around the Bronx, but he feels that he was the object of some left-handed generosity the other day when an irate resident tossed a can of tomatoes at him without removing the can . She became incensed when the firemen decided to tear down a fence to extinguish the last embers of a fire back of her home. She was charged with disorderly conduct.

JUST SING YOUR BEST

PARIS—If you are a singer and sing as loud as you can when you have had a bad cold you are doing your best. And that is all anyone, including a theatrical producer can expect. So the court has ruled in awarding Yvette Guilbert 35,000 francs damages on a counter claim against M. Franck of the Etoile theatre. He sued the singer for alleged damages, asserting that she jeopardized the success of "Les Amants Legitimes" by not singing her part audibly enough. She replied that she was suffering from a bad cold and added an allegation that Franck had broken the terms of his agreement with her.

GOING THAT WAY ANYHOW

ROCHESTER—Frank E. Haight, hay and grain dealer, is taking lightly the inconvenience he suffered when the coupe in which he was riding was struck the other night by a limited passenger train going at full speed. The engine ground the coupe to bits but deposited him (clear of the wreckage) on the front of the engine, where he rode 1,200 feet while the train was being brought to a stop. He suffered a wrenched back and minor injuries.

"I was going that way anyhow," remarked Haight. "I hated to lose the coupe, however."

Grilled Mutton With Tomato Sauce—Two slices of mutton about an inch in thickness, cut from the leg. Make a marinade of two teaspoons of salad oil, one dessertspoon vinegar, one small chopped onion, a pinch of herbs, one spoon of salt and a dash of pepper.

Put the meat in a dish, pour over it the marinade, let stand for two hours, basting occasionally. Remove the meat, dry well and grill over a clear fire for about fifteen minutes.

Place the meat on a hot dish and arrange pieces of sliced potatoes around it. Have a large cup of tomato sauce ready to serve in a sauce boat. This dish may be varied by serving it with mushroom sauce and baked tomatoes, or baked or stewed mushrooms and brown sauce.

Russian Sandwich—Beginning at the top of this sandwich, which is built up in tower form—one in reality partakes of a miniature full course dinner from fruit cocktail to dessert.

Cut six thin round slices bread, diminishing in size from four inches across to one and one-half inches across. The largest slice is of course used as the bottom layer of the sandwich—and is spread with jam. On top of the jam layer place the next smaller piece of bread spread with cream cheese. Next comes a buttered slice, adding bacon or chicken with lettuce and mayonnaise. The fourth piece of bread has a slice of tomato and the fifth a slice of cucumber—each buttered and having lettuce and dressing. The one and one-half inch round, not buttered, forms the top layer, then add a tiny piece of fruit and top with a stuffed olive. (The layers are held together by toothpicks.) Place the finished sandwich on a lettuce leaf.

REPUBLICANS PLAN DEFENSE

Will Retaliate Against Efforts To Oust Smith And Vare.

UNIQUE PLAN IS BEING ARRANGED

By WILLIAM K. HUTCHINSON,
International News Service Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Nov. 12.—An unique defense against the Democratic threat to bar Senators-elect William S. Vare, of Pennsylvania, and Frank L. Smith, of Illinois, from taking their seats in the senate was being considered today by administration leaders.

Fearing the Democrats may gain control of the senate in the seventieth congress by disbarring Smith and Vare on the opening day, administration chieftains are considering a move to mete out the same treatment to at least two newly-elected Democrats. If the Democrats carry out their threat, and the Republicans are able to retaliate, the latter would still retain control of the new senate by the single-vote margin. The lineup then would be 46 Republicans, 45 Democrats and one Farmer-Laborite.

Seek Majority.

The Republicans, however, face stiff opposition before they can retaliate. First, they must establish contests against several democratic senators-elect, and, second, they must command sufficient votes in the new senate to bar these newcomers until the Smith and Vare cases are disposed of finally.

As the Democrats have control of the "holdover" senate—which is that portion of the membership not up for re-election this year plus the short term senators elected last Tuesday who take office at once—the Republicans have all the odds against them. The "holdover" senate lines up with 34 Democrats, 29 Republicans and one Farmer-Laborite.

This Democratic majority of "holdovers" might spell the doom of Smith and Vare. If the two are summoned to take their oaths of office under the "call of the alphabet" as has been the traditional custom for a hundred years, the Democrats will retain a party plurality of three votes when Smith's name is called. As Shipstead, F.-L., favors the exclusion of both men, there appears little likelihood of their being seated unless the Republicans can retaliate.

Outlook Gloomy.

The Republican outlook will be even more gloomy if Republican insurgents are persuaded to vote with the Democrats in blocking Smith and Vare from being seated. This procedure consists of sending their credentials to the senate elections committee without permitting them to take their oaths of office. Consequently, neither can vote, enter debate or serve on committees until their cases are finally decided and the Democrats now boast of a majority of the senate ready to declare their elections null and void. Thus, both men may never serve a day in the senate.

To block this action, the Republican defense plan must include some precedent-shattering arrangement by which all uncontested Republican senators-elect—eighteen in number—can be seated before the incoming Democrats are admitted.

If this can not be done, Republican leaders propose to retaliate against some incoming Democrats. Their present plan would include the filing of contests and moves to refer the credentials of the Democratic "victims" to the elections committee.

If the Democrats win all down the line and finally disbar both Smith and Vare, the Republicans' last hope in retaining control of the new senate will be to hold every Republican, regular or insurgent, in line, win over Shipstead, the Farmer-Laborite, and toss up a 47 to 47 tie vote upon the vice-president's desk for Charles G. Dawes to decide.

International News Service Staff Correspondent

SOMERVILLE, N. J., Nov. 12.—Mrs. Jane Gibson, the state's principal witness in the Hall-Mills murder trial, who has been seriously ill, in a Jersey City hospital, has suffered a relapse and a blood transfusion will be performed today to save her life, according to word received here early today from Jersey City.

Physicians held a conference late last night and decided that her life could only be saved by the blood transfusion.

Fireman Thomas Kent, of Engine Company No. 21 of the Jersey City fire department, was selected to give the blood, it was stated in information reaching Somerville where the trial reconvenes today after the Armistice Day recess.

Grand Jury May Probe Election In West Virginia

Hint Irregularities At Polls In Election Of Congressman

(International News Service)

CHARLESTON, W. Va., Nov. 12.—The Federal Grand Jury which convenes here next week may be asked to investigate the election of a congressman in the sixth West Virginia district, it was hinted in political circles here today.

This, it is said, is the only course open to J. Alfred Taylor, congressman from this district, who was defeated for re-election by 38 votes and who requested the aid of Sen. James A. Reed's committee in probing alleged irregularities at the polls on November 2.

Senator Reed has informed Congressman Taylor that the senate committee has no jurisdiction in a congressional election. There was a lull in the situation today. Taylor is at his home over the week end and his plans are not known definitely. His friends said he would carry the probe through.

Taylor charges that votes were bought outright at the polls in Kanawha, Fayette and Raleigh counties by the Republicans. E. T. England, former state attorney general, defeated him.

Virtue pays. Then if you do something a wee bit naughty, you get a lot of publicity.

High School Boys In Philadelphia Are Disorderly

Twenty-Eight Youths Face Hearing For Disorderly Conduct

(International News Service)

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 12.—Twenty-eight West Philadelphia High School boys were to be given a hearing today on charges of disorderly conduct and malicious destruction of property following the wrecking of two elevated cars here last night in celebration of their football victory over Central High School.

The youths were arrested after they had smashed the electric lights of the two cars, broken the windows and hurled cushions off the train, routing trainmen who tried to quell the disturbance. The demonstration was staged on the train on which the students were returning from the game.

The victory jubilee continued until a score of police met the train at the 32nd street station and after a parade rounded up most of the celebrators and locked them up for the night.

FIRE DESTROYS TEN COTTAGES

Estimate Loss Of $15,000 As Cottages Near Wellsburg, W. Va. Burn

(International News Service)

WELLSBURG, W. Va., Nov. 12.—Fire, believed to have been of incendiary origin, destroyed ten cottages at Bellevue camp here early today with a loss estimated at $15,000.

Dr. H. G. Prentiss of Baltimore and a valet narrowly escaped with their lives from the flames, being forced to flee in their night clothes.

The fire, first discovered beneath the porch of a cottage owned by Col. W. W. Beal, and occupied by Dr. Prentiss and his valet, rapidly spread to other cottages in the camp.

There were no fire fighting facilities available at the camp, and other cottages were saved only by the distance separating the group destroyed from the others.

Explaining that it was only because certain work requires man's brute strength, a women's communal farm colony in Surrey, England, has decided to admit a limited number of husbands to the colony.

Armistice Week Program Fills Capitol Theatre

Capitol Theater fans can remember Armistice Week here for one thing in an entertainment way, and that is the quality of the bill. Perhaps no bill in weeks has been so well rounded as the one playing there the last three days of this week.

Hart, Roberts and O'Neil have a dancing oddity that has eccentric steps and wise cracks intermingled. The three boys are much beyond just an ordinary dance act.

William Sisto is billed as the wizard of the harmonica, which means in street English that the boy is clever with a mouth organ, or rather with a bouquet of them, for he plays a dozen or more. He has an Italian dialect monologue running through his act that goes over just as good as his harmonica, or excuse us, his mouth organ.

Moran and La Bert open the bill in "Taps", the taps being a series of clever tap dances. This act is different enough from the first act mentioned that you can see both and like them.

The feature picture this week is Buster Keaton in "Battling Butler", a typical Keaton comedy. As an added feature Harry Hammond presents "The Song of the Big Parade".

Altogether, the bill is a splendid one.

A "Deer" Lesson For Local Hunter

Neighbors Eat Meat And Are Also Fined By Squire In Beaver County

ELLWOOD CITY, Pa., Nov. 12—William Gillian of Beaver County is one hundred ($100) dollars poorer and much wiser today, having found that the hunting law holds good in Beaver and Lawrence counties when it comes to killing a deer. In fact it was a "Deer" lesson for Mr. Gillian.

With a shot gun swung over his shoulder, and a large hunting license number sewed onto the rear of his coat, he started out the first morning of hunting season. Walking thru what is known as dead man's Hollow, Mr. Gillian was busy kicking the dead leaves and searching for a fleeting bunny and did not notice the large eyes of the doe quietly gazing at him from the branches. Of a sudden he looked up and with a startling aptitude, forgetting law and everything else, he shot and killed the animal, which weighed 80 pounds.

Oh how proud he was, and with what a friendly hand did he offer his neighbors a portion of the venison. Could it be that he had forgotten some one, and they, jealous creatures, notified the police? Anyhow this is what happened. The policeman was notified and while there was still more than 50 pounds of meat left, Officer Hoover arrested Gillian, who had nothing to say, when reminded of the law not to shoot deer. On account of his age he was not charged for using a shotgun, another violation.

Officer Hoover notified game wardens Sines and Davis, who took the matter into their hands. The venison was sent to the Ellwood City hospital where the patients enjoyed the special treat.

But again we find something unusual in the final administration of the law. Those neighbors who had enjoyed their venison were not allowed to go without punishment. They were arraigned before Squire Bush of Junction Park who fined them accordingly.

Here Is Where Benedicts Have Chance For Laugh

Insurance Company Statistics Show They Are Healthier And Enjoy Much Longer Life

Wags who after a wedding ceremony dolefully murmur "another good man gone wrong" are all wet.

And so is the wit who said "married men don't live any longer than single men it only seems longer."

For according to the law of averages of human life based upon statistics compiled by insurance companies the moment you become a husband your chances of living to a ripe old age have immediately improved.

Life statistics of the United States, Great Britain, France and Germany show that out of 1,000 men from 25 to 34 years, those who died included 15 who were divorced, five who were single and only four who were married.

The ratio grows even more favorable as they get older.

And what about the women—the weaker sex?

This same law of averages shows that women as a rule live three years longer than men.

The average life is now 58 years. The average 50 years ago was only 46 years.

It is expected that the average life in 1950 will be 75 years.

Statisticians also have figured out a table showing how old a person should live to be, based on his present age. Here it is:

At 7 years of age you should live 58 years more.

At 12 years of age you should live 63 years more.

At 32 years of age you should live 37 years more.

At 42 years of age you should live 29 years more.

At 52 years of age you should live 21 years more.

At 62 years of age you should live 15 years more.

At 72 years of age you should live nine years more.

At 82 years of age you should live five years more.

At 92 years of age you should live three years more.

At 102 years of age you should live two years more.

HELP YOURSELF TO HEALTH — W. K. Kellogg

Lagging feet and longing hearts

THE third dance . . . and tired, utterly tired . . . sinking into the first chair—there perhaps to spend the rest of the evening. This was not the vivacious girl she had been a few years ago. Then thirty dances would have been her portion. What tragedy, was this, that she, so young, should seem so old.

What tragedy indeed is constipation—one of the worst diseases to afflict the human race. It saps strength. It thieves beauty. It poisons. It ages its victims long before their time. But the hopeful part of it is—constipation can be safely and permanently relieved without the use of habit-forming pills and drugs. Kellogg's ALL-BRAN is the answer.

No matter if constipation has become chronic, Kellogg's ALL-BRAN will bring permanent relief. This is why: Bran—ALL-BRAN—goes completely through the system without changing fiber. It is what doctors call a bulk food, a necessary aid to regular elimination.

Eat at least two tablespoonfuls of Kellogg's ALL-BRAN every day—in chronic cases, with every meal. If eaten regularly, it is guaranteed to bring permanent relief, or your grocer returns the purchase price. Its delightful nutty flavor makes it good as a cereal. Serve with milk or cream alone or with fresh or preserved fruit; with other cereals or cook in hot cereals; use in soups, or in the recipes given on every package.

Look out!

Products which are only part bran are doubtful. They bring only partial results—often none at all. Don't take unnecessary chances. Kellogg's ALL-BRAN is ALL BRAN—100% bran. That's why doctors recommend it. Sold by all grocers and served in leading hotels and restaurants.

ANCIENT CLOCK GOVERNS BANK

ASBURY PARK, N. J., Nov. 12—The Merchants National bank here opens its doors in the morning, regulates all its activities and closes at night by a tall mahogany clock brought from England 311 years ago and acquired by the bank's president, Samuel Reeves in 1913 for $21 it was made known today.

Mr. Reeves said he believes the timepiece was at least 500 years old. It has no markings to indicate its age and birthplace. The clock was brought from London by Isaac Woodard in 1615 to Monmouth county, New Jersey.

When Charles Woodard a de- 1912 he willed the clock to a nescendant, died at he age of 70 in phew, Dare Switchin of Asbury Park.

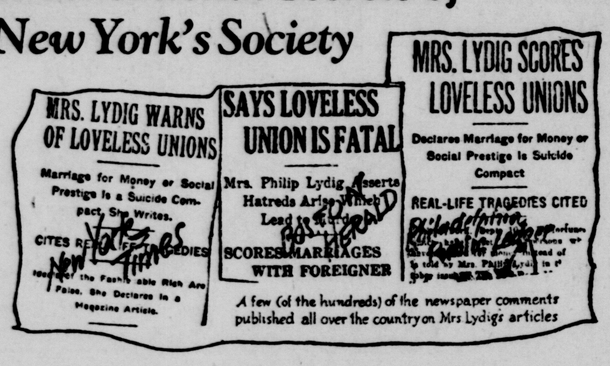
Switchin owed Mr. Reeves some money for some articles worth $21 and after keeping the clock for a year or so decided to turn it over to his creditor in payment.

Any kind of dance would seem a little vulgar to those who can't dance.

The Woman Who Is Astounding America

Reveals Sensational Secrets of New York's Society

MRS. PHILIP LYDIG
—the first wife of the late W. E. D. Stokes, a New York social leader, and descendant thru her mother of the Spanish Duke d'Alba



A few (of the hundreds) of the newspaper comments published all over the country on Mrs Lydigs articles

Mrs. Philip Lydig is astounding America. At last she opens the door to her life-time of experience—her associations with the men and women of New York's ultra-smart society. Tragedies that make you gasp are given in boldest relief—and in the next breath she tells you of the ridiculous and often amusing aspects of smart New York society.

TODAY a certain woman is famed as a leader of New York social life. Her husband owns one of the world's most valuable collections of art treasures. Her home is a mecca for nabobs and billionaires. Just a few years ago the same woman was a hopeless outcast. But she learned a little secret and started on the way to social prominence. What was the price she paid? How did she finally remove the last obstacle—the man who threatened to expose her methods and even bring her husband to financial failure?

This is only one of many such incidents that Mrs. Lydig gives with astonishing frankness in her article: "Frauds of Smart Society." This article is published exclusively in the December issue of The Red Book Magazine now on sale at all news-stands.

Is the Unwritten Marriage Law Passing?

As Discussed by JUDGE BEN B. LINDSEY

OUT of the hodge-podge of thousands of tangled human relationships, Judge Lindsey has evolved a philosophy so courageous, so removed from old standards—so daring—that the nation is staggered.

People, he declares, are making their own rules and laws, to suit their happiness and needs.

For example, he says—The love triangle is often a happy solution to marriage problems! One's love-life is his own and as long as he hurts no one, Society has no right to criticize or condemn.

That Infidelity is NOT at the root of marital troubles—but lack of fair play and a feeding of green-eyed jealousy.

That Freedom in love affairs, in marriage, leads to a monogamic marriage of itself. You will gasp mentally when you read his article in the December Red Book Magazine—The Moral Revolt; never before has any publication let such frankness go uncensored.

You will suddenly wake up to changes in thought and action that are cropping up all about you!

It is a vital issue—and will be thrust into your own life with tremendous force, if it has not entered already. Which side of the fence are you on—have you the courage to agree with Judge Lindsey?

Who understands people in all their pretense and sham, groping and floundering, better than the author—the real author who does not exaggerate or color—but who paints word-pictures as true and realistic as any snapshot of life!

And never before have we been able to offer you a group of such popular and beloved writers as in this December Red Book Magazine—authors who write of the people of today with a shrewd, understanding that is uncanny in its realism. Such as Rupert Hughes, Owen Johnson, Rita Weiman, Leroy Scott, Virginia Dale, Struthers Burt, Samuel Spewack and others—all names that mean stories that live for you, packed with the pulsating romance of Life—its ecstasies and tragedies.

Iron And Steel Trade Review

October Shows Largest Ingot Total For Month On Record

CONDITIONS ARE UNUSUALLY GOOD

PITTSBURGH, Pa., Nov. 12.—The Iron Age in its weekly summary of the iron and steel trade says: Contrary to reports of a slight falling off in steel output, the official statistics show the largest October ingot total on record at 4,092,548 tons. This represents 87.66 per cent of capacity, against 84.19 per cent for September.

It is pointed out that October is the month in which producers strive for records, and this year was no exception, in spite of the fact that in all products except rails bookings were less last month than in September. Uniformly the November schedules of the large steel companies call for a reduced operation this month, with the expectation that some will reach 75 per cent a little later. The Pittsburgh district is not far from that figure this week.

For the 10 months ending Oct. 31 ingot output this year was 39,939,000 tons, against 36,267,000 tons in the first 10 months of 1925, an increase of 10 per cent.

The steel corporation, which had a large rail business last month, apparently about the same as in October, 1925, had a gain in unfilled orders (probably about 150,000 tons) even though its shipments were somewhat more than in September.

An event of the week is the opening of books by the American Sheet & Tin Plate Co for first quarter sheet orders and first half tin plate orders at unchanged prices.

Rail mills have good rollings scheduled for this month and some are already at work on orders for winter laying. International Great Northern's part of Missouri Pacific's 70,000 tons, was 21,000 tons, 4,000,000 tie plates (26,400 tons) for the Missouri Pacific, there was keen competition, the greater part going to Colorado. The Reading rail order amounts to 28,000 tons of 130-pound Bethlehem sections.

Upward of 1600 freight cars were bought within the week, including 700 tank cars for one petroleum company and 500 for another. The Pennsylvania railroad is inquiring for 75 locomotives and the Western Maryland for 20.

Third quarter shipments of steel to the locomotive industry are put at 13 per cent of the entire production. October specifications, however, were the smallest in 18 months.

Coal prices have reacted violently, run of mine coking coal going to $2.75, as against $4 recently, one week's increase in production being equal to a full week's exports. Coke is weaker in sympathy, but with no sales, as nearly all consumers are covered.

Porto Rico Farmers Ask Aid From U. S.

(International News Service)

SAN JUAN, PORTO RICO, Nov. 12.—"We must have relief from Washington," is the keynote of an appeal today by the Asociacion de Agricultores, whose membership includes eight thousand Porto Rican farmers. This new note of supplication comes as a protest against the plan of the politicians to saddle the people of Porto Rico with a further burden of public debt amounting to a million dollars, in way of additional loans to nine of the more important towns and cities of the island.

Already the farmer is paying eighty per cent of the taxes of the island and is receiving only ten percent of the benefits therefrom. Practically everything has been and is being spent in the cities and towns. This is being done under what is called a Municipal government system.

Porto Rican farmers are preparing to urge upon Congress the imperative need to change this Municipal Government method of dominating public affairs on their island.

The farmers prefer and insist upon a system of government for the rural sections which will be entirely independent of the urban zones; that is, independent of the incorporated cities and towns.

Bond issues for public purposes on the island must have the approval of and are handled by what is designated as the Executive Council of the Island. This Executive Council is headed by the Governor, who is appointed by the President, and by the heads of the important executive departments. The native Porto Rican has very little to say in such matters.

The Association of Farmers is opposing the proposed new loans to the towns and cities.

Touching Scenes Enacted Each Morning Prior To Hall-Mills Testimony

Mrs. Frances Stevens Hall Visits Jail and Talks With Brothers.

Woman Deserted By All Except "Loyal Few" Offers Contrast.

BY JAMES L. KILGALLEN
International News Service Staff Correspondent

SOMERVILLE, N. J., Nov. 12.—Before the curtain rises each day revealing the Halls-Mills murder trial drama, there is enacted a scene in the Somerset county jail, just back of the court house, that is not without its pathos.

It is Mrs. Frances Stevens Hall's visit to the bleak little jail.

She goes there each morning, shortly after nine o'clock to see her brothers, Willie and Henry Stevens, who are accused with her of having committed one of the most brutal double murders in American criminal history.

"Good morning", she invariably says with a cheerful smile as she is ushered into the reception room by "Jim" Major, the warden, to meet her brothers who are waiting for her, eager for this brief meeting that helps so much to give all of them courage to meet the ordeal of the day in court.

What a contrast in the daily routine of this pale-faced, black-garbed woman! Not long ago, it was her custom to pay a daily visit to the Church of St. John the Evangelist in New Brunswick, now it is a daily trip to a jail. Formerly surrounded by a circle of friends who admired and perhaps envied her as the wealthy pastor's wife; now a woman deserted by all but "the loyal few".

In the jail, too, is Henry De La Bruyere Carpender, cousin of Mrs. Hall who is also accused of the murder of the Rev. Edward Wheeler Hall and his choir singer, Mrs. Eleanor Mills. But Carpender, who is a Wall Street broker, is not to be tried until later. His wife visits him almost daily. She said today that it was "awful" to keep Henry waiting for trial—he wants to be at the side of Frances and Henry and Willie".

One thing Carpender misses, according to his wife, is golf. He hasn't had a niblick in his hands for weeks.

It is a loyal little knot of kinfolk who gather in the reception room of the jail each morning—Henry, Willie, Mrs. Hall, Mrs. Stevens and Mrs. Carpender. They chat in a family circle for half an hour or so and then Warden Major advises them "it's about time for court".

Governor-Elect Makes Addresses

Speaks At Ambridge And Pittsburgh At Armistice Day Events

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, Nov. 12. — Governor-elect John S. Fisher, who went to his home in Indiana, Pa., today after making Armistice Day speeches in Ambridge and Pittsburgh, may return here later this week for extended conferences with W. L. Mellon, Republican state chairman, it was learned.

There is a possibility that Fisher and Mellon will then take a short vacation. Fisher would give no intimation of plans for his cabinet on his latest visit here. The governor-elect is busy preparing his budget and hopes to have it completed when the legislature convenes, he said.

Fisher said he would not attempt to dictate to the legislature, but will have suggestions to offer for its consideration. He declared to reveal the nature of the suggestions.

Warns Women Of Boyish Figure

BINGHAMTON, N. Y., Nov. 12—The craze for a "boyish figure" causes 370 out of every 100,000 deaths among women, John Bradford field secretary of the National Playground and Recreation Association of America told the New York state Federation of Women's clubs.

"You cannot reduce and retain your health by starving yourself" he asserted.

Commenting on the need for recreation among young people to offset the effects of "mechanized industry' Mr. Bradford said: "they must have a normal, wholesome outlet for their spare time."

To Present Mock Trial On Friday, November 19

Young People Of Sunday School District Plan For "Barrel of Fun."

Large Cast To Take Part. Affair To Be Screaming Farce.

Billed as a "barrel of fun", a mock trial will be presented in the First Presbyterian church Friday, November 19, under the auspices and for the benefit of the New Castle Young People's division of the Sunday School association.

The trial is that of two local young men who are being sued for damages by four belles of the Punkintown Academy, that well known academy of science and art. It is alleged that one of the young men called them "bobbed hair flappers" and because they are not that kind of flappers they have asked for heart balm.

Not the Hall-Mills Case.

It was stated today by T. J. Davies, superintendent of the young people's division, that this case was not connected with the Hall-Mills case and also that Peaches Browning positively would not appear.

Houdini Leaves His 'Magic' To Brother

Greater Part Of Book Collection Bequeathed To Congressional Library

NEW YORK, Nov. 12.—Harry Houdini left his bag of tricks and "illusions" to his brother, "Hardene," a magician, like himself, and the great part of his collection of old and rare books to the Congressional Library at Washington, it became known when the magician's will was opened Thursday.

In it Houdini describes himself as having "formerly been Ernest Weiss." His wife, Wilhelmina Rahner Weiss, is named executrix.

She receives his entire dramatic library, his jewels and his "trophies." His brother, Dr. Theodore Franz Weiss—"Hardene" is bequeathed "lithographs, theatrical effects and paraphernalia."

But Houdini makes one proviso —His brother shall destroy the illusions upon his death.

Houdini also stipulated that on every June 16 for a period of 20 years, "Hardene" should give $50 to another brother, W. F. G. Weiss. June 16, Houdini explained, was the anniversary of his mother's death.

Should this second brother die, the sum shall be given to his son, Samuel.

Ever since the death of Houdini there has been much talk about who would receive the library. The will does not make this clear.

Books were presented to both Mrs. Forquer and Mrs. Shields as an appreciation of their splendid work.

It was decided to have Mrs. Ethel Walker, a state worker among the colored people to conduct a welfare meeting among the colored people in this city some time in the early spring.

A petition was circulated to be signed by the presidents and all members of the Woman's Christian Temperance Union to retain Dr. Ellen Potter as head of the Welfare Department in the state of Pennsylvania. The petition will be sent to Governor-elect Fisher not later than January 1.

CEASE WORK ON ROAD BUILDING

Clarks Mills To Sheakleyville Road Construction Stops For Winter

(Special To The News)

MERCER, Pa., Nov. 12. — Work on the three-mile strip of road from Clarks Mills to Sheakleyville, contracted to the Robert Jamison company of Fredonia has terminated for the winter.

This is the announcement of today at the county commissioners' office of the status of their six-mile road building program in the county for this summer contracted at a cost that approximated half a million.

The road is the only one of the three contracts let that is unfinished and is due to the weather conditions that prevailed this fall which prevents the completion of the route. The grading for the new road is all finished and one mile of the three of concrete has been poured.

It is said that the failure to complete the road will mean a loss to the contractor due to the fact that he must hold over the winter his machinery and materials for its completion next spring.

S. S. Smith, well known Mercer merchant, is home from Rochester, Minn., where he underwent an operation at the Mayo Brothers Hospital. He has gained 20 pounds in weight since his operation and is in the best health he has enjoyed for two years.

Litigation that involves thousands of dollars in damages sued for are tied up in the 53 cases docketed for trial at the Common Pleas sessions of Mercer county in November that comes on for a hearing starting November 15. The court is the record breaker in number of cases listed for hearing of any in county court history. Corporations share with individuals as defendent to the actions brought. There are nine cases against the United Natural Gas Company brought by Farrell residents in collection of damages growing out of the gas explosion in that city some time ago. Two cases are listed against the Shenango Valley Traction Company of Sharon, and one against the Pennsylvania Railroad Company.

What number of the cases on the list will be tried remains for the convening of the court to determine when the attorneys report.

Bail will be raised for Edward Critchfield of Jackson Center, who is held in jail on a manslaughter charge perferred by the District Attorney's office, states his attorney, J. W. Nelson, today.

The court has fixed the bail at $3000. It is said that Critchfield's friends are making an effort to raise the sum and that he should be released very soon now. The circumstances surrounding the crime for which he is held are the most peculiar of any homicide that ever happened in Mercer county. Clyde Schuler of the same place was struck on the chin by Critchfield on the evening of October 30th at the Yellow Creek Inn and died instantly from a broken neck.

Mr. and Mrs. A. G. Dilley of Beaver street left today for Florida, where they will make their home for the winter. Mr. Dilley is a court tipstaff. The aged couple are well known in the county where they have lived their entire lives. The winter is spent in the warmer climate due to the health of both.

Is the public health in 1926 in advance of precedents or is it retrograding is a question that Dr. S. J. Dickey, county medical director of Mercer county will be able to answer within a few weeks. The doctor is making an inspection of a portion of the public school children of the county. In one high school in the county he found 25 cases of goitre out of 108 pupils examined. Another alarming feature of his tests is the fact that one-third of the children examined are found to be roundshouldered. This in itself is easily corrected but is dangerous to go unchecked as it leads in many cases to tuberculosis. Only 30 per cent of the children are found to be normal.

Parents are urged to assist the doctors in seeing to it that corrective measures are taken with their children when indicated by the doctor.

Public health study in Mercer county is a new feature just instituted with this year.

World's Largest Testing Machine Now In Operation By Government

By ROBERT S. THORNBURGH.
International News Service Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Nov. 12—A testing machine—the largest in the world—capable of exerting a pressure of ten million pounds is in operation at the United States Bureau of Standards.

This machine can crush a brick or stone wall with about the same effort an elephant would require in cracking an egg shell. The tremendous force is applied with little visible effort on the part of the leviathan.

There is none of the fuss of a locomotive climbing a heavy grade, or a truck pulling itself out of a mud hole. The pump which supplies the oil under heavy pressure to the great cylinder operating the machine moves easily and quietly. The motion of the machine itself is so slow that it is hardly perceptible, yet at the same time it is irresistible.

In addition to the fact that the machine is of great interest technically to materials engineers, the work for which it is used is of great importance to the general public whose comfort and safety are affected by these investigations on building materials.

Parts of structures must stand up under all loads which may come upon them. On the other hand the testing machine permits experts to determine the minimum strength required in the building so that no additional expense will be attached to its construction.

By actually measuring the strength of a wall or column the safe load which it will carry in service is easily determined, bureau officials explained.

"Our modern skyscrapers and bridges could never have been built without an accurate knowledge of the behavior of structures and parts of structures under load.

"In the case of the Delaware river bridge, recently completed between Philadelphia and Camden, the safety structure was insured through tests of the parts in the 10 million pound machine maintained at the bureau."

Contractors and architects in all parts of the country frequently submit material testing problems to the Bureau of Standards which furnishes a report showing the type of construction necessary to insure safety.

Another phase of the building study conducted by the Bureau pertains to fireproof materials. Building materials are placed under intense heat to determine their resistance to fire. Frequently specially constructed buildings are burned down a number of times burned down with a number of specialists observing the results.

Headlines you never see: "I Took Correspondence Course," Paderewski tells hearers.

Most of the people who think they are tolerant are merely powerless.

A true modern is one who is bored if he isn't excited.

World War Cost France Nearly 240 Billion Francs

Louis Marin, distinguished French statesman, member of the Chamber of Deputies and former Cabinet Minister, contributes an article on France's wartime finances to the August Current History Magazine. The Deputy's presentation gives an insight into the vast costs of modern warfare and into the financial burdens which are an inevitable outcome. One of the greatest economic losses suffered by France was in labor; the complete cessation of all non-essential industry was an early result of the war. On this point, M. Margin gives some illuminating figures: "France's effort for the entire war represents 11,000,000,000 days of mobilization for native French soldiers. Of this total, 8,000,000,000 days were served in battle, and 13,000,000,000 days covered colonial mobilization." With respect to the maintenance of these troops, during the war period, the cost in francs of feeding alone was 15,078,972,204, he states.

The entire cost of France's war expenditure, including direct outlay, exchange losses, home and foreign loans, is given by M. Maris as 237,411,263,366 francs.

M. Marin adds that the wounded soldiers were also a costly item, and that enormous amounts were expended for their care. Throughout the war, an estimated total of 89,377,998 cases, ill or wounded, were cared for, at a total cost of 1,463,219,600 francs. The grim task of munitions-making proved another drain on the national finances. The total cost of actual armaments, non-inclusive of gas masks, flame projectors, and so forth, is placed at 42,602,247,000 francs.

In conclusion, the author raises the question of whether the loans by the United States were not a legitimate part of this country's war contribution. "Let us view this as a general problem," he writes, "and discuss a general principle which may be applied to all nations at all times. It must become common to all, that the nations entering the same coalition should share the expenses of the war. And it will be so when men's consciences become more sensitive to what is just and right."

Paris Schools Emptying, People Go To Suburbs

(International News Service)

PARIS, Nov. 12.—The fall of the birth rate during the war and the increasing movement of the population to the suburbs is making Paris face a serious elementary school problem. There has been a marked falling off in the number of pupils in certain districts and several schools have been forced to close.

According to the "Excelsior" there are only twenty pupils in some schools and in certain districts the majority of the pupils are foreigners. Reference is made to one teacher who has great difficulty in making herself understood for there is only one French child in the class.

Last year the number of foreign pupils attending Paris elementary schools was given as 14,825; for the suburbs the figures were 8,493, making a total of 23,318.

Buffalo County, S. D., Has All Indian Officials

(International News Service)

CHAMBERLAIN, S. D., Nov. 12.—Buffalo county, South Dakota, has returned to the dominion of red men as a result of the election on November 2, when a full county ticket of Indian candidates was victorious.

This is the first instance in American history since the coming of the "paleface" government of such an occurrence as far as can be remembered.

All of the red men are said to measure up to white men holding similar posts in other South Dakota counties in intelligence, education and experience, and are all of a progressive nature.

"What is the use," declared a spokesman from the newly elected officers, "of the government educating the Indians if they are not to take their proper place in the affairs of the country?"

Says Princeton Was Justified

(International News Service)

CLEVELAND, O., Nov. 12.—"The Princeton Athletic Council was well justified in breaking off athletic relations with Harvard; the articles in the Lampoon were impertinent and did not reflect the true sentiment of the campus," declared Professor Albert Bushnell Hart of Harvard University here today.

The educator, who is here to participate in the centennial celebration of Western Reserve University, expressed the hope that amicable relations would be resumed between the two institutions at an early date.

M. B. Hogue, outside relief administrator for the county commissioners in their conduct of the county poor district, has been kept on the jump recently looking after the various claims throughout the city and county. In a great majority of cases relief is being furnished to those in need at their homes. Many of the cases arise through the desertion of a husband of his wife and family. School Platoon System In This City Discussed

In The New Castle School Bulletin, which has just been issued, a discussion of the platoon system, as used in the public schools here, and the value to the schools and community of this plan, is given by Prof. James M. Hughes, principal of the Lincoln-Garfield school, and superintendent of the school system during a part of last year.

Prof. Hughes' article says:

It is surprising how fast the platoon school organizations are growing in the United States. A recent survey showed that there were over 100 cities in 30 states that have some form of the platoon organization in one or more schools.

New Castle was the third city to adopt this system of schools and nearly every school in the city has adopted this plan.

It has been said where once one of these schools has been established in a community, it sells itself as the plan is adaptable to any type of community. It not only increases the capacity of the school, but also stimulates interest on the part of the pupils. There is something about the system which seems to attract the children as the cases of truancy are very much less than in the traditional type of school.

The number of promotions is greater, as is also the daily attendance.

Generally in the one-room, one-teacher organization, a teacher slights the subject in which he is not skilled. Such a condition cannot exist in the platoon system. Fifty per cent of the day is given to classroom subjects and 50 per cent to special subjects.

The curriculum of the platoon school is divided into two parts—the home-room studies and the special activities.

The home-room studies consist of reading, writing, arithmetic, spelling and language, taught by competent teachers who devote all their teaching efforts to these few subjects.

The special activities comprise music, art, geography, literature, nature study and health education, taught by teachers who have a particular bent for their subjects, and on account of their training are able to teach with power and inculcate an appreciation of their particular fields that is impossible under traditional conditions.

The platoon system in some cases has solved the problem of a congested school population, for at the Lincoln-Garfield school there are 25 classes in 22 classrooms.

The advantages of the platoon school over the traditional type may be summed up in the following:

1. An enriched curriculum.
2. An enrichment coming from teachers trained for special work.
3. An increased health due to greater health-giving activities.
4. The problem of truancy elimination and retardation.
5. Saving in text books.
6. It gives more time for careful preparation of each subject taught.
7. Every subject has its definite time allotment.
8. Teachers become specialists in their particular subjects.

The schools of today are looking toward a larger social ideal, toward a community where citizens will be prosperous and independent and are training the children toward these ends.

Auto Drivers Should Aid Safety Work

Hanlon Calls Attention To Perils Of This Season Of Year

Fall and winter being the most fertile seasons in the production of traffic mishaps, individual motorists are called upon in every part of the country to do their part in preventing these accidents.

"In New Castle at the present time we are coming through one of the most dangerous parts of the driving year," according to B. N. Hanlon of the New Castle Motor club." For instance let us take the weather that New Castle had on Monday of this week. With fall here and the leaves on the ground, the rain made driving very dangerous. Wet leaves are about as dangerous as snow, and should deserve just as much careful driving," says Mr. Hanlon.

Another thing about the fall weather is the fact that fogs are very thick around this part of the country, especially in the early part of the morning, when frost is also adding to the danger. "No driver can be to careful when driving through fog, as speed under these conditions is as bad as driving at night without lights." Under ordinary conditions, frosty roads are as bad as in the winter when one is driving through snow. It takes a very careful and skilled driver to keep his car under control on a hill when he is driving under such odds.

"Another thing days are growing shorter now, and lights are being brought increasingly into service. Glaring lights, the cause of an astonishing percentage of the serious traffic accidents, in every city in the country, should be checked," says Mr. Hanlon. "They are illegal in many places, but enforcement of such regulation is almost impossible. It is flatly up to each individual car owner to see that his own lights are in proper adjustment. If he will consider the part he can play in reducing accidents by this simple step, it is almost certain he will not lag in accepting his part of the duty.

"Brakes, obviously, are another factor in accidents. It is against the law to drive a car with inefficient or inadequate brakes, but it is impossible for officials to know how every driver's brakes are working, that is up to the driver himself, unless a serious mishap calls the police attention to the inadequacy of the brakes, and then it is too late to be of much advantage to the driver and the public. Unequalized brakes, as everyone knows, cause skidding and during Fall and Winter seasons they are the primary cause of hundreds of serious accidents.

Deer Hunting On In Utah Forest; Fawns Are Sold

By Central Press

SALT LAKE CITY, Utah, Nov. 12.—Hunters from all over the country are coming to Kaibab National forest in southern Utah to shoot deer.

The Kaibab deer have found it hard to hustle feed, but now they are doing well by cleaning up the roadway of tender grass. The forest officials report that there are few mushrooms—of which the deer are fond—owing to lack of precipitation.

Assistant District Forester R. E. Gery, in charge of the lands, reports a very heavy crop of fawns.

Incidentally, 250 prize fawns, as tame and friendly as lambs, will be sold this year to private and public park owners. Last year approximately 100 fawns were delivered to buyers throughout the country.

The fawns are gathered in late June and early July by ranchers and stockmen. They are fed chiefly on milk during their early life and later are able to eat grass and herbs. At that there is about thirty per cent loss in raising. This novel enterprise is operated under contract with federal authorities. The fawns are taken from the Kaibab forest under the supervision of the government. The contractors do this without profit. The purchasers are required to pay actual cost of rearing and transportation.

Norway To Handle All Liquor Sales

(International News Service)

OSLO, Norway, Nov. 12.—Re-organization of the entire liquor trade will be the first result of the crushing defeat of Prohibition through the referendum.

Until now all kinds of beer and wine have been sold through a monopoly, half the shares of which are owned by the Government, the other half being in private hands.

The Minister for Social Welfare is already busy preparing a bill to permit the Government to redeem all the privately owned shares—a total of twenty million kronen—and to re-organize the monopoly as a State-owned institution affecting the sale of all alcohol in Norway.

The Cabinet will propose to the Storthing to abolish the Prohibition law, and there is no doubt that the Storthing will accept the proposal.

Rules under which liquor will be freed for sale are very simple. The Cabinet has decided to put no real restriction on the trade but will take steps to prevent "unworthy" persons from getting what is now a privilege very much coveted in Norway.

No person under twenty-one will be allowed to purchase strong liquor, nor will any person be allowed to make such purchase if he has infringed the existing rules for the sale of liquor. Nor will a person be allowed to purchase alcohol if he has committed some crime while under the influence of liquor.

To make these restrictions effective, the authorities will give legitimation cards to all law-abiding citizens, and simultaneously the police will be authorized to deprive of the card any persons who commit the mentioned offences. The Cabinet's Bill will be presented as soon as the Storthing meets in January.

THE NEWS BY MAIL ONE YEAR $5.00

What Are You Studying?

HISTORY, mathematics, literature, languages, science? In your whole curriculum, there is no lesson more important than how to guard your health. Long after your hard-won French vocabulary is forgotten, you will be putting into daily practice—if you are wise—the rules of health.

School work, with its continual studying, its sports, dances and social affairs demands a vigorous body. How discouraging it is to miss the good times. And sometimes, how unnecessary.

First of all, then, learn the lesson of health. Find out what fresh air will do, exercise, sleep and proper food. Many school girls have learned that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has helped them to find the health they needed and has made their school days happier.

"I gave my fifteen year old daughter, Louise, Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and it did her a wonderful lot of good. She had been out of school for four months. I read the advertisements of the Vegetable Compound, and since she has taken it she has improved and has gone back to school again. I recommend the Vegetable Compound to other mothers with girls who are not as strong as they should be."

Bessemer High School News

Interesting Events Of Past Few Days At Progressive School

(Special To The News)

BESSEMER, Nov. 12.—Messrs. Taylor and Keylor will present a most unique and original entertainment in the Bessemer high school auditorium Monday evening, November 15. The entertainment will include juggling, ventriloquism, magic, paper tearing, clown characterizations, local numbers, planologues, character songs, imitations and rag picture creations.

The eighth grade girls of Bessemer high school enjoyed a delicious dinner Friday evening from 6 to 7 o'clock. It is the eighth grade girls who do the cooking every day for the cafeteria so they decided to take an evening off and cook for themselves. The acting hostess of the dinner was Mary Pusnik, while the hostess was Thelma DeArment. The guests of honor were Miss McLaughlin and Miss McClelland. After the dinner the class stayed to see the "movie" of the evening.

The Bessemer high school football team met the Slippery Rock high school team on the Slippery Rock field last Saturday. The Bessemer boys went onto the field with great confidence and being backed by Coach Byler they were able to win one of the hardest games of the season. The score was 26-0.

The Bessemer Trail Blazers held their open meeting in the church auditorium Sunday evening at 8 o'clock. The meeting was called to order and reports were given by the girls who attended the Wooster conference this year. More speaking and music completed the program.

Last Thursday the seventh grade under the supervision of Mr. Lukkarila, put on a most interesting chapel program. The seventh graders presented a drill "The Different Days". A paper on "Etiquette" was read and Mr. Eales, the burgess of Bessemer, gave a very interesting and educational talk on "The History of Our Education". The orchestra was exceptionally good and a very enjoyable hour was spent by all.

The parents' night proved to be quite a success at the senior high school. About 200 parents and friends were present to observe the students at their daily tasks.

Child Gets Sick Cross, Feverish if Constipated

Look at tongue! Then give fruity laxative for stomach, liver, bowels

"California Fig Syrup" can't harm children and they love it

Mother! Your child isn't naturally cross and peevish. See if tongue is coated; this is a sure sign the little stomach, liver and bowels need a cleansing at once.

When listless, pale, feverish, full of cold, breath bad, throat sore, doesn't eat, sleep or act naturally, has stomach-ache, diarrhoea, remember, a gentle liver and bowel cleansing should always be the first treatment given.

Nothing equals "California Fig Syrup" for children's ills; give a teaspoonful, and in a few hours all the foul waste, sour bile and fermenting food which is clogged in the bowels passes out of the system, and you have a well and playful child again. All children love this harmless, delicious, "fruity laxative", and it never fails to effect a good "inside cleansing". Directions for babies, children of all ages and grown-ups are plainly on the bottle.

Keep it handy in your home. A little given today saves a sick child tomorrow, but get the genuine. Ask your druggist for a bottle of "California Fig Syrup", then see that it is made by "The California Fig Syrup Company".

Textile Worker Is Made Millionaire Through Patent

Collar Manufacturer Grants Textile Worker Million For New Patent

(International News Service)

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 12. — Yesterday John B. Bolton, of this city was dependent on his salary as a textile worker.

Today he is a millionaire.

Semi-rigid collars brought him the sudden wealth.

The ring of the alarm clock however continues to call him to duty. He answered the call of his alarm clock at 6 o'clock today and went to work in a Kensington textile mill as usual.

Bolton perfected a material which would make a collar look stiff but which is actually soft. He gave his patent to John M. Van Heusen, of Boston, who accumulated an immense fortune manufacturing the new collar. Bolton however, claims he received nothing and hence brought suit.

Years of litigation followed. Juries in various courts rendered verdicts for $1,314,241 in Bolton's favor. Appeal after appeal followed. The case was finally settled out of court yesterday and Bolton became America's newest millionaire.

Seven days placed end to end reach too far to go without resting on at least one of them.

Canada Black Bear Is Chummy With Man

Accepts Humanity On 50-50 Basis And Is So Received By All

The most popular wild animal in Canada's National parks is the black bear. He has not resented the invasion of man and being of an inquiring mind he wishes to know more of this modern era. It almost seems at times as if this younger generation of bears know in some subtle way of the old adage "give and take" and the up-to-date expression a "fifty-fifty proposition." Man invades the bears' territory and he invades man's whenever possible seizes his possessions as a brother, uses them and deems it his right. Black bears are at heart naturally friendly; they apparently long to know man and more of the world in general.

All travelers into primeval regions know the idiosyncrasies of bears. How they will sit for many minutes sizing up mortals in true bear fashion. When food is around they think of the fifty-fifty talk—why not enjoy man's diet? They break into cabins, caches, and wander around camps with the sole object of self-satisfaction. They hold up automobiles on the Banff-Windermere motor road between Banff and Lake Louise, they mean no harm and apparently figure out that wild animals in their primeval haunts have a right to man's possessions and why not?

The maternal instinct is strong in these creatures of the woods but who would dare state they had no moral code of right and wrong? They side with man when they have a right to do so though against their cubs.—New York Sun.

Yellowstone Park Is Wild Life Haven

Naturalists And Geologists Pass Many Days Studying Animals And Fossils

Bit Of Old West Is Preserved For Future Generations By Government

More than 3,000 square miles in area, Yellowstone National park stands today as the largest open-air school of national geological geophysical and national import.

"Any man with a family of adolescent children would do well to take them through Yellowstone" said Senator Robert W. Shingle president of the Hawaiian Territorial senate at the conclusion of a recent park visit with five of his children.

"The boy or girl who is at that indeterminate age when new things make lasting impressions should be taught the meaning of the out of doors and Yellowstone Park is particularly suited for his or her reception. Animals, trees, flowers and every phase of healthy outdoor life are there as well as striking actual lessons of how this earth of ours was formed."

Educators Agree.

Senator Shingle, from America's Pacific gem, is not alone in his recognition of Yellowstone's educational value. From practically every state, educators come to the park. Each year they come in increasing numbers and this summer no small proportion of the 35,000 Yellowstone visitors have been teachers or pupils profiting by the natural preserve and wonderland that they as Americans have set aside for their perpetual enjoyment.

They are coming by train and auto passing through in five short days—time enough to see the geysers and hot springs, the mountains and a few of Yellowstone's animals—others are spending weeks and a few the entire summer.

Yellowstone's own educational system—the ranger naturalists, their guide trips and lectures—deserves first mention. This system under the guidance of the park superintendent has been formulated within the last few years. Dr. H. S. Conard, botanist from Grinnell college heads the ranger naturalists this year with a staff of 12 college men, two of them professors. Several are stationed at each hotel and camp centre in the park and conduct guide parties without charge over the hot spring and geyser formations. At Yellowstone lake Prof. Kelly of Cornell colege, biologist and ichthyologist, sponsors trips through government fish hatchery, supplemented with lectures at the permanent camp and hotel. Dr. Conard's field hikes from Camp Roosevelt have become exceedingly well known to park visitors. All of this work including a park museum is directed by J. E. Haynes, official park photographer.

Many Visitors Students.

One of the largest parties of students to visit the Yellowstone this year and with one which has come to the park for several seasons is the Wisconsin-Minesota students group. Under the leadership of Prof. E. J. Prucha of the River Falls State Normal school, Wisconsin and Lawrence Dawson of the same institution this group takes full advantage of the ranger naturalist service as well as its own instructors.

From Chicago a bay's excursion captained by Dean Spaulding of the School of Forestry, University of Montana, will spend many days in the Yellowstone combining recreation with instruction. Prof. Allen D. Hole of Earlham college, Indiana is conducting another Yellowstone trip for students.

The geological formations and thermal activities of the Yellowstone are of everlasting interest, portraying the volcanic era as they do. With this in mind, Professor R. M. Field, of the Summer School of Geology and Natural Resources, Princeton University, has decided upon a Yellowstone trip as part of the traveling geological course which he is conducting this year for Princeton. Accompanied by some twenty-five picked graduate students and professors, Dr. Field traversed the United States in a special railroad car, and passed five days in the Park.

From thirty to seventy five members of the Iowa State Teachers' Association are in the Park this summer. Commenting upon the the Yellowstone visit one of the association officials said: "Travel is broadening and educatfonal and is of great benefit to school teachers in making them better fitted for the instruction of children."

Experts See Park

The list of learned and learning in the Park this summer might be continued indefinitely. Drs. E. T. Allen and A. L. Day, of the Geophysical Laboratory of the Carnegie Institution, Washington, D. C., are spending the summer studying thermal activities in geysers and hot springs. Professor Virgil G. Sleight, of Brown University, is to collect geological specimens for the New England school in the Park, and Dr. L. O. Overholts, of Pennsylvania State College, accompanied by Dr. J. B. Hill, of the same institution and several others are likewise collecting botanical specimens. From the South comes Professor E. E. Strong, of Erskine College, South Carolina.

The Carnegie Institution is likewise represented in the ical field by Professor Ralph M. Chaney, of the University of California, who is studying fossil forms in the region about Camp Roosevelt where such specimens abound. He is accompanied by Dr. H. L. Mason.

Botanical men find particularly interesting the algae, minute plants that grow in the super-heated watters of the hot springs and lend so many of Yellowstone's formations their beautiful colors. These are found in greatest numbers at Mammoth Hot Springs. For geologist there are several localities abounding with fossils and petrified trees. An extinct volcanic region, Mount Sheridan, occupies a vast area in the Park, standing now as a ring of mountains that were at one time the cone of an erupting peak. Rock formations may be studied on all sides, geological "faults" having thrust cliffs and mountain slopes thousands of feet into the air.

The naturalist, and the conservationalist in particular, can find no better locality in the country. Animal life is as abundant as it was 150 years ago, protection and care have restored vast herds of game and animals.

Emerson Hough made good use of his gift for words when he said, "Thank God, you Americans, that Yellowstone is now and ever shall be—your own! Thank God, that there you can still see a part of the Old West—your own West—as it was in the beginning."

Movable Wings Raise and Lower New Style Plane

This new style airplane, invented by A. A. Merrill, instructor in aeronautics at the California Institute of Technology, Pasadena, Cal., raises and lowers itself by changing the position and angle of its movable wings. The body of the plane remains horizontal at all times, never "nosing up" or "nosing down." Top photo shows the plane, with its pilot, Robert Lloyd, ready to take off. Note the angle at which the wings now rest, ready for the plane to attain maximum altitude.

Great Britain Is Skeptical Over Coolidge Speech

(International News Service)

LONDON, Nov. 12.—Despite its nationalistic tone and sharp, caustic comments on European affairs, the speech of President Coolidge at the dedication of the Liberty war memorial at Kansas City yesterday, has met with general approval and comparatively little criticism in British government circles.

The British press took varying views of the president's speech, in the main taking the attitude that the speech was not happily inspired but that Mr. Coolidge's intention was pacific.

PHONE AND DELIVERY SERVICE

Truss Expert Coming

We wish to announce the visit of the Collins Truss Expert at the Leslie Hotel, New Castle, Pa., Monday and Tuesday, Nov. 15 and 16. Hours 9 to 12 a. m., 2 to 5 p. m. and 7 to 9 evenings.

New Broad Back Truss

We want to demonstrate to you absolutely without a penny in advance our new invention for holding difficult or aggravated cases of rupture whether of Inguinal or Umbilical character. If you are ruptured you should be interested in our ability to fit you with a truss that will do its work properly and give you the greatest ease and comfort possible.

Scientific and Practical

This new Collins Truss is based on the most scientific principles for holding a rupture. It is not only representative of mechanical perfection but contains that super-power for holding a rupture without discomfort and that makes for a complete recovery where this result is possible.

Contains No Springs

There are no springs or metal parts used in this new truss other than the small necessary buckles; instead it is made of high grade elastic web with soft, pliable cloth back made wider so as to distribute the pressure over a broader surface. Prevents all cutting and chafing, and gives the necessary uplift to the pads.

It Holds the Rupture

It is easily, quickly and permanently adjusted so an even and uniform pressure can be constantly maintained at any desired tension. The patented sectional pads are adaptable and will fit any kind of rupture. As the cure progresses the pressure can be lessened without a change of pads.

It Stays Put

When placed in position, the Truss stays put and does not skid or slide. Regardless of the position of the wearer's body; stooping, jumping or standing erect, the Truss remains firm and set, and adjusts itself as the occasion demands.

Comfortable Day or Night

To do its maximum amount of good, a truss should be worn continuously day and night. Upon retiring many people remove their truss, with the result that the weakened muscular tissues relax and oftentimes allow the rupture to assume the form of the original protrusion. This new Truss can be worn at all times.

THE COLLINS TRUSS EXPERT —Gives—
FREE DEMONSTRATIONS
MONDAY & TUESDAY, NOV. 15 & 16
Every ruptured person should visit our Truss Expert and learn what genuine truss-comfort means. No charge for demonstration or information.

Faithful To End Hound Dog Keeps Watch Over Master

CRAFTON, Pa., Nov. 12.—"Gunner" was just a plain old scrub of a hound dog, but he remained true to all traditions of dogdom and stayed with his master, "Old John", until they were parted forever.

While "Gunner" kept his lonely vigil throughout the long cold night Old John lay cold and dead in a corn field on the Daube farm, Oak Hollow, Scott township. Old John, a recluse, died from heart disease while returning from his day's work in the fields.

When found yesterday morning by a passing hunter, the dog was whimpering over his master who was frozen until his body was stiff. The hunter notified police and John H. Mountain of Crafton. A silent group formed a circle around Old John and the dog who would not allow them to come nearer than 10 yards.

Then the morgue ambulance came over the uneven field. Morgue attaches carried a basket in the dog's direction. "Gunner," sensing the men were friends, wagged his tail, then bowed his head and walked slowly into a neighboring farm while his master was being lifted into the morgue ambulance and borne away.

Gardner

Our school had a most excellent session last Sunday. Mr. and Mrs. Clinton E. Sankey of Ellwood City came early and added much of interest. Mr. Sankey sang a solo and taught the lesson. Willard Kennedy gave two fine selections on the violin. Mrs. Kennedy sang "Teach Me To Pray". Mr. Sankey made an eloquent plea for right living and promised to get us all the song books needed. He also offered a reward of a good watch to each one of the boys in our school who will let tobacco alone until after they are 18 years of age.

Mr. Dorcy of East New Castle is still in the New Castle hospital, but his condition is improving.

Miss Ora Zehner, who spent several weeks at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Zehner of the Ellwood highway, has gone back to her position in Miami, Fla. A letter received by her parents states that it is almost past belief how rapidly Miami is recovering from the late disaster.

Mr. and Mrs. John J. King of Shenango stop have as their guests Mr. King's brother and his wife, Mr. and Mrs. William King of Cleveland, who will spend a brief sojourn in Pittsburgh, going on to Philadelphia and Washington, D. C.

The Colquhoun family left our village on Wednesday, moving to East New Castle.

William Nelson and son Henry were off on a hunting trip for several days, going to Coudersport and other points. They report squirrels and rabbits were very plentiful in the forests of Potter county.

Mrs. A. H. Robb went to Butler, Pa., last Sunday to see Master Kenneth, who has been quite ill with a heavy cold but who is recovering.

Mrs. Routledge, wife of the pastor of Providence church above North Sewickley, will have entire charge of the service in Gardner next Sunday. We hope to have some special music.

Rev. McKay, pastor of the Baptist church at Harlansburg brought his wife and children Margaret, Garfield and Jean and Mrs. Isaac Harlan and Miss Julia Harlan to call on friends in Gardner last Sunday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Walker of Gardner entertained Mr. Walker's sister and her husband, Mr. and Mrs. Paul McConaughy, last Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Main of Ellwood City and Mrs. Main's sister, Mrs. Wann and niece Dorothy Shannon, spent the evening at the Schumaker home in Gardner recently.

Decision Upheld In Croker Case

(International News Service)

JACKSONVILLE, Fla., Nov. 12. —The decision of the district federal court dismissing the attempt of the three children of the late Richard Croker Sr., former Tammany Hall chieftain, to break their father's will, which was made in favor of their stepmother, Mrs. Bulah Croker, has been upheld by the circuit court of appeals at New Orleans, according to information received in the federal court here today.

The decision leaves only litigation in the United States supreme court open for the children, Richard Croker Jr., Howard Croker and the present Mrs. Ethel White. Mrs. Croker, "the Indian princess", was left the bulk of the Croker millions.

Plan Propaganda Program By Using Moving Pictures

(International News Service)

LONDON, Nov. 12.—British empire propaganda by film is one of the subjects before the Imperial Conference.

"There is one great vehicle of propaganda," said Sir Philip Cunliffe-Lister, President of the Board of Trade, in addressing the Conference, "which we have almost completely ignored—the kinema.

"It requires little imagination to picture the effect on tens of millions of people of seeing American films, staged in American settings, American clothes, American furniture, American automobiles. American goods of every kind.

"We must explore the lines of action which might be taken to encourage the production of British films. It is a difficult and complicated subject, and is being examined in detail by one of the committees of the conference.

"This committee has before it a mass of information which has been collected by the Board of Trade in discussions with the various sections of the kinema industry and from other sources during the past year."

Early Mailing Will Be Urged

Directions Issued For Christmas Mailing For Local Patrons

WRAP SECURELY, IS FIRST PLEA

Lack of co-operation from the public with the postal department during the holidays cost many disappointments is a recognized fact and with the holiday mailing season only a few weeks distant Postmaster J. C. Norris says that the local postoffice is ready to co-operate with the public in regard to hoiday mail

Christmas mail is fraught with a sentimental value and to give it the full measure of happiness and cheer it should be carefully prepared and reach the addressee in time to be in keeping with the purpose for which it is intended. To this end the patrons of the New Castle postoffice schould observe the conditions enumerated below:

Prepay postage fully on all mail matter address all matter plainly and completely in ink, giving street address or box or rural route whenever possible with senders return card in the upperleft hand corner of the address side; tags should not be used unless necessary in which case a copy of the address and return card should be placed inside the parcel for identification if the tag is lost.

Pack articles carefully in strong durable containers. Wrap parcels securely but do not seal them except when bearing a printed label reading: "Contents: Merchandise, Postmaster. This parcel may be opened for postal inspection if necessary.

The weight limit for all parcels is 70 pounds and the package should not be larger than 84 inches in length and girth combined if to be delivered in the first, second and third zones, or 50 pounds in any other zone. Parcels may be marked "Do Not Open Until Christmas" so that all articles mailed at an early date will have their full benefit at Christmas time.

Written greetings and names numbers or symbols for the purpose of description may be inclosed with third or fourth class mail. Books may bear similar dedicatory inscriptions not of a personal nature with other written additions subject to letter postage.

Letters in parcels will make the entire parcel subject to letter postage. Communications prepaid at first class rate may be sent with parcels prepaid at the third or fourth class rate by securely attaching the envelopes containing the letter or written matter to the outside of the parcel. Christmas seals or stickers should be placed on the address side of the package.

Valuable parcels should be insured. Christmas parcels weighing eight ounces or less may be mailed in street letter or package boxes at all classified stations and branches and at such places designated for that purpose. Parcels weighing over eight ounces are not to be mailed at street boxes but taken to the postoffice or classified station or branch.

Parcels containing meats, food products, cut flowers or other perishable matter should be mailed only at the main postoffice according to instructions received by Mr. Norris.

Mexican Troops Close On Yaquis

(International News Service)

TUCSON, Ariz., Nov. 12.—Armed with the most modern equipment money can buy, the Mexican federal troops are closing in upon the rebellious Yaqui Indians entrenched in the Bacatete mountains of Sonora.

The federals have armored trucks, armored cars, Vickers Maxim machine guns and a mountain gun of somewhat heavier than the American 37 mm. to augment a squadron of airplanes which will be used to trail the militant Yaqui in his mountain fastnesses.

Despite the excellent equipment, however, the morale of the federal army is low as the Yaquis are reputed to be savage fighters.

The secret service of two governments is reported to be attempting to discover the machinery behind the Yaqui defiance to the Calles government. Trained military observers here believe that the Yaqui rebellion is only a curtainraiser to a revolution that will rival the upheaval of 1914.

Great Britain Pays Homage To World War Dead

King And Other Members Of Royalty Pay Tribute To Dead At Impressive Ceremony

(International News Service)

LONDON, Nov. 12.—Great Britain ceased toil and pleasure to pay tribute to its million war dead yesterday on the eighth anniversary of the armistice.

While the entire British Empire paid homage to its dead, it was the Cenotaph—that empty tomb in Whitehall which is Britain's national memorial—that was the center of the impressive ceremonies.

The king, baring his head, laid a huge wreath of Flanders Poppies at the base of the memorial, which was already almost buried beneath a sea of floral tributes. The Prince of Wales and other royal princes then laid their wreaths and were followed by the representatives of various civic organizations and branches of the government.

Mars Signals Fake Insists Astronomer

(International News Service)

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn., Nov. 12.—Efforts to signal Mars are "buncome" and reports of signals received from Mars are "fake," Prof. F. P. Leavenworth of the astronomy department, University of Minnesota, said.

The distance radio will carry is limited, compared with the distance of Mars from the earth, he declared.

That theory that vegetation exists on Mars is reasonable enough, according to Professor Leavenworth. Greenish blue areas indicating vegetation are seen there but it is of small amount, he said.

Mars is the nearest planet available for observation. Venus is closer by 16,000,000 miles but we see only the dark side, Prof. Leavenworth said.

Pictures of Mars are now being taken through the largest refracting telescope in the world located at the Yerkes observatory, Williams Bay, Wis., it is said, and not until better telescopes are invinted will much more be known about it than is known today.

Mars is 42,000,000 miles away and has four seasons, each about twice the length of the same seasons on the earth.

SEA GOING PICKERS GATHER UP GRAPES BY USING ROWBOATS

NORTH EAST, Pa., Nov. 12.—Grape picking in the North East district this year provided one of the strangest sights in years.

Owing to the unusual amount of rain a number of vineyards were flooded to a depth of two feet and many grape pickers have had to traverse the territory in row boats.

The grapes were taken to a centrally located boat which was towed by a motor boat to a landing station.

Lumber Used In Coffins Enormous

WASHINGTON, Nov. 12.—Some interesting facts about the consumption of lumber in the seemingly minor industries are shown in studies made by the Forest Products Laboratory.

It was found that it requires 102,000,000 feet of softwood lumber—equal to 102,000 mature timber trees—to make burial caskets used yearly in the United States.

Screens to keep out mosquitoes and flies use up 20,000,000 feet yearly, while another 30,000,000 feet goes into signs each year. Pails, tubs, clothes racks, bowls, step-[illegible] bread boards and other woodenware call for 100,000,-[illegible] lumber.

Honey bees require 10,000,000 feet a year for their hives, while incubating eggs and baby chicks need 10,000,000 feet. Toys consume 2,300,000 feet of softwood, to say nothing of hardwood.

The Forest Service and the National Lumber Manufacturers' Association are cooperating in a campaign of education to have the manufacturers buy in short lengths so the mills may utilize all of the tree in turning out lumber.

Ah, well; ten years from now nobody will remember who entertained the queen.

United States Post Office Department Prepares For Record Christmas Mail

Expect December Postal Business To Exceed Every Previous Figure

Army Of Postal Employes Make Ready For Coming Rush

By GEORGE H. MANNING.
(Washington Correspondent of The News.)

WASHINGTON, D. C., Nov. 12.—Unless all signs fail the volume and value of Christmas business to be handled by the United States postoffice department this year will exceed that of any other period in the history of the government.

Christmas, so far as the army of employees in the postal service are concerned begins on November 15 and extends until after New Year's day. From the middle of November until the close of the calendar year 50,601 postmasters, 20,411 railway postal clerks, 48,715 letter carriers, 67,671 clerks and 45,181 rural carriers will be in the midst of the Christmas business and will find their time fully occupied in receiving and distributing the vast amout of mail matter of all kinds that will be placed in their care for safe and prompt delivery to the American public.

As early as October 1 last, Postmaster General New called the attention of postmasters to the necessity of submitting advance requisitions for stamp supplies needed for sale in connection with Christmas mailing. This was done in order that the transportation facilities of the service might be relieved to the fullest extent possible of shipments of postage stamps and other stamped paper during the period from December 10 to 26. All requisitions for postage stamps, postal cards, plain stamped envelopes and office request envelopes, except for emergency supplies, were to reach the department not later than November 20, under order of the Postmaster General.

Officials of the department having direct supervision over the distribution of stamps and stamped paper have been literally swamped with requests from postmasters in the large business centers as well as from those in the more thinly populated sections, for supplies of various kinds indicating to those in charge that a tremendous holiday business may be expected.

Asks for $12,000,000 Worth.

From the postmaster at Chicago alone has come the request for $12,000,000 worth of postal supplies of various kinds and postmasters in other large cities have asked for a corresponding amount. The demands for stamps have exceeded all expectations of postal officials but they are making their distributions and allotments just as fast as the stamps can be turned out at the Bureau of Engraving and Printing.

Reports being received at the department from railway mail superintendents in various sections of the country show that the large mail order houses located north, east, south and west are prepared to do a record-breaking mail order business during the Christmas season and are calling on postmasters in their respective sections for huge amounts of stamps.

As a fair indication of what may be expected this year the postal receipts last year at fifty selected cities throughout the country for the month of December reached a total of $38,655,752, breaking previous high records for postal business by four and a half million dollars. Officials at the department judging from the requests for stamps and other postal supplies now reaching them from postmasters in every section of the United States confideitly predict that the Christmas season of 1926 will far surpass the total volume of business and value of transactions conducted during the previous year.

Enjoying Prosperity.

The indications thus far received by postal officials show that the merchant, the farmer, the laboring man and people in general are enjoying the greatest amount of prosperity. Christmas presents, they argue, are regarded as more or less of a luxury and when times are bad and bank accounts are low there is comparatively light exchange of presents except among those of the more wealthy classes. But when crops are good and employment steady with fair and remunerative wages buyng during the Christmas season is brisk in all sections and as a consequence the condition of the country is reflected in the amount of business done by the postoffice department.

Officials of the post office department have sounded a note of warning to prospective Christmas shoppers and mailers to see that their letters and packages, containing valuables are properly addressed and marked. Attention is directed to the fact that during the last fiscal year undelivered letters received and disposed of at the dead letter and dead parcel post branches throughout the country totaled 24,056,928 an increase of 2,724,696 over the preceding year. Of this number 3,952,074 were delivered, 19,810,020 were destroyed on account of containing nothing of intrinsic value, 80,027 on account of containing valuables were filed awaiting claims by owners and the balance amounting to 214,007 were under treatment. Of the total 535,376 unclimed parcels were handled of which 161,406 were delivered, 52,528 were destroyed on account of being of no value or dangerous to other mail matter and 321,388 were filed to be finally disposed of at public auction.

For the past two or three years the post office department has been conducting a better mailing campaign in all sections of the country. Schools, colleges and patriotic bodies and associations of every description have co-operated in this work of education and the results have been entirely satisfactory. But the department in view of the approach of another Christmas period is once more calling attention to the amount of business transacted each year by the dead letter offices throughout the country especially during Yuletide in the hope that the American public will heed the warning and take sufficient time and care in addressing their letters and their packages so as to reduce to the very minimum the number that will find their way to the undelivered class of mail matter.

Jazz Furnishes Germ For Future Of Music World

CHICAGO, Nov. 12.—America is a country without a past. Jazz, as a musical form also has no past. Therefore, Jazz is destined to be the American music of the future.

This is the conclusion drawn by Madame J. Herscher-Clement, French composer who is closely associated with the famous "Group of Six" so dominant a factor in the evolution of French music and who came to Chicago in connection with the world premiere of a French musical comedy of which she is the author and composer.

"Music," said Madame Herscher-Clement, " is first, last and always an expression of nationalistic life, of nationalistic feeling and aspiration, and as such, no matter how revolutionary its form, is rooted in tradition.

"America has no past. Equally, jazz, as a musical form, has no past. In it America's kaleidoscopic present finds its most vivid expression. Musically, therefore, it will become her tradition—her 'musica of the future,' not in its present form, probably, but in some form which will be derived from the germ existing in the wild compositions of today."

Dominions Study Empire Ship Plan; Spend $50,000,000

(International News Service)

LONDON, Nov. 12.—A new scheme for a $50,000,000 fleet of Empire ships to offer fast mail passenger, refrigerated and general cargo service to Australia and India at 50 per cent greater speed than the present is being laid before the Imperial conference.

One of the chief arguments used in its favor would be the great service to the British empire in time of war.

It is urged that their high speed their large fuel capacity, their radius of action and their general suitability for arming with big guns as auxiliary cruisers would make them invaluable.

The idta originally suggested by Sir James Connolly, formerly Agent-General for Western Australia in London and backed by a group of big business men is to build seven ships and maintain a regular fortnightly service between Britain and Australia.

The normal speed of the ships would be 22 knots and the rates would be no higher than those in operation at present.

No matter what kind of winter we have, some old-timer will recall a milder or colder one.

Most of the enthusiasm is possessed by those who wish to boss the job.

Senior High School News

Biology

Biology is one of the new subjects in the high school curriculum. It combines botany, zoology and physiology in a scientific and interesting manner.

This year the biology class is being conducted as an experiment to see whether the pupils will like it as well or better than straight botany or zoology. It gives the underclassman an idea of what he is going to study if he takes up one of the other sciences, and it gives the one who will not or has not had time for either of the other subjects a general knowledge of the manner in which life is maintained and carried on. The text books are arranged in such a way that one will be studying the topics in the season of the year in which the specimens are most easily obtained.

—By Dorothy Smith.

Zoology

We zoology pupils of the seventh and eighth periods have been left practically "in the soup", so far as publicity is concerned, so now we are endeavoring to put ourselves in the "limelight".

In our eyes zoology is the most interesting science taught in this high school, and this article is an attempt to explain reasons why we like it so well.

This study occupies two periods of 40 minutes each. In the first period we have laboratory work, consisting of drawings of the animal being studied and the making of written articles, usually in theme form. These themes are of the life history of the animal. The second period is our recitation period and may be conducted one of two ways. In the first the teacher asks the questions while the pupils recite. In the second the lesson is either taken wholly by one pupil, or if it is too long, it is divided among two who make questions covering the lessons. There are two or three critics appointed, whose duty it is to listen to the recitation and correct any mistakes or add anything that may be omitted. Then on the day of recitation the pupils ask their questions and in general conduct the recitation for the day. This method has been tried for two weeks, the first week by Alfred Hoffmaster and the second week by Julia McClenahan and Robert Sherer. This method has proved very successful.

Special Reports

During the week topics are assigned to about five pupils for them to go to the library and prepare to tell the class about their discoveries without the use of notes. This is an assignment for Friday. This broadens the knowledge of the student and is much more interesting. It has been tried for three weeks. The first series of talks was given by Julia McClenahan, Mileo Mancini, Dallas Thompson and Alfred Hoffmaster. The second was by Walter Preston, Robert Sherer, Kenneth Dufford, Jack Hanrahan and Harry Alford. The third series was given by Wallace Mott, Florence Hatfield, Hugh McPhillips, Toney Matteo, Martin St. George, William McBride and Ruth Rodgers.

In our schedule we also include walks into the country for the purpose of gathering insects of different kinds and bringing them back to class for study. This is valuable, for the student has a fine chance to see the real and living specimen instead of pictures of the same.

TRIM STORE WINDOW

Ne-Ca-Hi Salesmanship students again displayed their artistic talent Wednesday evening by trimming the Davis Shoe Store window. Harriet Goodman, Grace Harris, William Brown and William Stump were the artists this week and we have decided that they have a good deal of originality. We are very well satisfied with the showing which our classes are making and of course we are more than anxious to see just what the judges have to say about who is who.

Most every one in the contest has their window planned ahead of time, and a few have even made plans for wearing the prize shoes when they are awarded. Many new ideas in window trimming are promised by those who have not had a chance to try yet so we advise you to accept, until November 10th, out motto "Watch Our Windows."

AWFUL PAIN OF GALL STONES

One of the Worst Known to Science — How And Why They Are Found

EXPERIENCE OF PEOPLE WHO HAVE SUFFERED FROM THEIR GROWTH

Medical men believe about one person in ten in the United States has gall stones. Often they are so small that they are passed without pain. But when they get larger only the surgeon's knife can relieve the awful suffering they cause.

What causes them? Usually the answer is simple. Nine out of ten are due primarily to a catarrhal condition. There is little benefit in having them removed when this condition is allowed to continue. Take the story of Mrs. Heneretta Malone, So. Mill St., New Castle, as told to Health Evangelist Dyar a few days ago. She said:

Soreness Left Me.

"I've suffered agonies from gall stones for years. Twice the surgeon has removed them, but each time they come back, and I had concluded there was no relief for me until I heard you say in a lecture that gall stones were caused by catarrh, which in turn often came from germ infection. I hadn't thought of that before, but it seemed so reasonable that I bought a bottle of World's Tonic to see if it would help. That very night I suffered greatly. A few days later the soreness left me.

"Then I began to think World's Tonic was helping me. Weeks went by and I suffered no more. Now after four months, I feel sure I am permanently rid of them. My general health is good; I have no symptoms of catarrh, and I feel so well that I just must tell you what World's Tonic did for me."

In his experience the Health Evangelist has heard of many such cases. Even if the operation removes all the stones, unless the cause is cured, more will appear. World's Tonic dispels catarrh wherever found. That is why so many thousands have been benefited by it. Get a bottle at Paisley's, McKee's Kut Rate Store, Smith's, and Eckerds of New Castle, Inc.. All reliable druggists should have it.

Capsized Boat Of Missing Duck Hunter Is Found

FREMONT, O., Nov. 12.—First trace of Wilbur Voss, 39, missing railway mail clerk of Fremont, who disappeared while hunting in Sandusky bay, was found today, when an overturned boat was discovered in a cove near Crystal Rock.

A thermos bottle, partly filled with cocoa, and a decoy duck, found beneath the boat, which lay in two feet of water, were identified by Mrs. Voss, wife of the missing man, as her husband's.

She collapsed when searchers righted the boat and revealed the thermos bottle and wooden duck.

Earl Baskey, World War aviator, led a crew of commercial airplane pilots of Toledo over the marshlands and water in the bay regions.

Voss was last seen at 11:30 a. m. Tuesday when he told guards at the Ottawa club he expected to set out decoys at a point in the bay known as "Niggerhead Rock."

TWO OHIO FARMERS STAGE PISTOL DUEL; ONE SERIOUSLY HURT

GALLIPOLIS, O., Nov. 12.—Thomas Blankenship, 44 years old, of Lawshe, and his brother-in-law, H. D. Dodson, 49 years old, farmers, started last night to fight a pistol duel near Dodson's home. Dodson was too quick, shooting and seriously wounding Blankenship before he could fire.

Dodson was arrested and placed in West Union jail. He has nine children, while Blankenship who is fighting for his life, is the father of seven.

Solved the Problem

"I was almost distracted with stomach trouble, gas and colic attacks and didn't know what to do. I had tried everything I heard of, and the doctor's medicine did not help me. A friend told me about MAYR'S, and it has solved the problem, as I can now eat anything and have no distress". It is a simple, harmless preparation that removes the catarrhal mucus from the intestinal tract and allays the inflammation which causes practically all stomach, liver and intestinal ailments, including appendicitis. One dose will convince or money refunded. McKee's Kut Rate Store and druggists everywhere.

Hunt For Old Man, Missing In Flooded Mine, Is Abandoned

CAMBRIDGE, O., Nov. 12.—That a water-filled room in the old workings of the Cleveland mine at Senecaville holds the secret of "Old Pete" Steediski's disappearance is the belief of officials of the owners of the mine and of State Inspector James Forgie.

The search for "Old Pete" was given up last night and preparations made to start working the mine today after two years of inactivity. "Old Pete's" wife has given up hope, too, of finding her husband alive. Many of the old chambers in the mine are filled with watre to their ceilings and cannot be explored.

Grand Moose Lodge May Take Action Against Raided Clubs

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, Nov. 12.—Secretary of Jabor James J. Davis, who also is director general of the Loyal Order of Moose, has only commendation for Prohibition Director John D. Pennington, he said today in discussing the latter's raids on Moose clubs accused of violating the prohibition laws.

The cabinet member vigorously denied reports that he had taken offense at the raids and closing of the clubs and was "out to get" Pennington politically. Davis said Pennington is doing his duty and "should be commended for his work."

"It is possible that the grand lodge will consider taking action against the raided clubs at its December meeting, Davis indicated.

No Fear Of Communism As Result Of Strife In China, Says McConnell

New Castle Man. Home From China, Talks Of Conditions

Tells Of Civil Warfare That Has Been Raging For Several Years

By ED FRITZ.

"The majority of observers who have studied the situation which prevails in China are convinced that the Chinese system will never accept the Communist doctrine. They believed too much in individual enterprise and initiative."

The foregoing is a statement from T. C. McConnell, industrial secretary of the Y. M. C. A., Foochow, province of Fukien, here on a 12 months furlough for the first time in five years. In all he has spent 11 years in China.

While here Mr. and Mrs. McConnell and their two children are the guests of Thomas Hartman, 235 East Edgewood avenue. During his furlough he will be interested in Y. work throughout Western Pennsylvania.

McConnell was sent to China in 1915 by the International committee of the Y. M. C. A. in New York which represents the whole American movement which includes the United States and Canada.

Contributions to this foreign work which have been designated as helping to carry on my work there have come from the New Castle association and eastern district branch, Brooklyn. McConnell received his first 18 months training at Brooklyn.

"Conditions as we see them are very much disturbed by the civil war" said McConnell, "and it is almost as difficult for one in the midst of it to guess the future as it is for people away and we see only the big things that are going on. Sometimes the immediate difficulties warp your point of view and the fellow who gets away from those difficulties begins to see they are very small.

"I have been interested to see recently developing in China, a sort of conviction that the military powers in the north and east seem to be nothing but military forces. There is no political party or political principles that seem to hold them together.

"They will sell out to the highest bidder if they get into difficulties. The south, formerly under Sun Yat Sen, and northwestern forces under Kuo Ming Chun, (which means the Peoples army or Republican army) led originally by the Christian general, Feng Yu Hsiang are subject to somewhat the same political practice others have suffered from, but if there is any political or patriotism in China the armies of the south and northwest probably have more of it than any of he other armies.

"But I would not want to be quoted as saying there are no government officials on the other side not trying to do an honest job because we have two of whom are Governor Chen Ping and Salt Commissioner Heuing Bui, who represent to my mind the finest grade, not only of government officials but of Chinese gentlemen that I have ever known. (McConnell explained that salt is a government monopoly and the revenue gained by the government is important.)

"These two men are Christian in their conduct and in their outlook. Both have been consistent and loyal friends of the Y. M. C. A. as well as other Christian organizations. The salt commissioner for some time has been on the verge of becoming a Christian church member.

"There is a real connection between the men of this character and the spirit that Christianity is generating in China. They are all working for the same things and find many points of contact and co-operation."

Referring again to the drive McConnell said: "Whether the immediate drive into the north by the southerners will succeed this time no one can tell but I believe it safe to say that sooner or later it will succeed and when it does the prospect of establishing a real republic in China will be much brighter.

Base at Canton.

"In 1922 there was an army of 30,000 driven out of Canton and having no other place to go invaded and captured Foochow and used this city as a base for operations against Canton, which was temporarily under the control of Yun Nan troops.

"At that time it was interesting to notice that frequently you found men who had been students from schools in many parts of China, some of them being graduates from theological colleges in Foochow.

"Most of the students, if inclined could have held down official positions and lived in comfort on 'political squeeze' (graft). But they were animated by enough real patriotism to be willing to suffer hardships and go in rags as soldiers in the fight for which they believed was their country's salvation.

"There has been many fears expressed that close relationship between the Russians and Cantonese as well as the Kuo Ming Chun (Republican army) in the northwest that are fighting against the central government that 'Dominism' might become the idea in China.

"But the majority who have studied the situation feel those fears not well founded. General Fung in the northwest and General Chaing from Canton are reliably quoted as definitely denying that they either believe in or are committed to the Communist cause and the majority of observers are convinced that the Chinese system will never accept the Communist doctrine. They believe too much in individual enterprise and initiative.

"Among the reasons for the alliance with Communism by these two groups, however, is the fact that there is no other source from which they can get arms, ammunition, money or military training.

"Sun Chuan Fang, the war lord of the Yangstze valley, who is the successor to Wu Pei Fu and Chang Tso Lin, war lords of Manchuria, are largely financed by British and Japanese money and in return probably would be expected to give these nations special consideration in territories controlled by them.

"The Japanese already have a dominating influence in Manchuria and the British in Yangtsze valley. The result is that these other revolutionary armies from the point of view of Pekin at least, have to get their supplies from Russia and one of the conditions on which they get them is that the Russians have some freedom in propagating the Communist doctrine.

"Very few Chinese or foreigners really believe the doctrine will make any serious impression in China. One of the reasons for that is that Russians have already revealed themselves in northern China as being equally jealous with any other nation in guarding their interest in connection with the Chinese-Eastern railway.

To Build New Cotton Mills To Aid Texas

Abolishing Gambling In Exchanges Also Offered To Solve Problem.

Ask Bankers To Raise $4,000,000 For Handling This Year's Crop.

(International News Service)

FORT WORTH, Texas, Nov. 12—Solution of the cotton problem in Texas by the erection of cotton mills and abolition of the gambling made possible by "exchanges" is believed possible by N. R. Morgan, an attorney of Seminole.

Declaring that underconsumption rather than overproduction is the cause of the present critical condition in the cotton-raising states, Mr. Morgan suggests that the $4,000,000 proposed to be raised by bankers and others could be used to greater and more far-reaching benefit by building cotton mills.

To Aid Employment

These mills, Mr. Morgan said, could give employment to thousands of people now engaged in the raising of cotton on rented lands.

"Texas needs 50 mills where it now has one," Morgan said, "The $4,000,000 proposed to be loaned by bankers and others to handle this year's Texas crop, would be better invested in building cotton mills in Texas—mills that would give employment to thousands of worthy working people who are now engaged in growing cotton on rented lands. Some of the cotton bagging to bale cotton which would naturally consume some of the so-called over-production."

Mr. Morgan severel y criticized the actions of some landlords who require a tenant to plant more than one-third of the land in cotton.

Plenty of Fuel.

"With Texas oil fields now producing 500,000 barrels of oil per day," Mr. Morgan continued, "and with the enormous natural gas fields now developed, Texas has the world 'skinned' on fuel. All of these things should promote more cotton mills in Texas."

Texas."

Pointing to Gaines and Andrews counties, with 1,000,000 each "awaiting the hand of the husbandman," to Yoakum, with 500,000 acres and other Texas counties, Morgan declared that there are plenty opportunities for prosperity there, the land being fertile and easily cultivated. This country, he said, will produce a greater variety and yield of field, orchard and garden produce than any other territory.

While speaker of the house Cannon ruled that body with an iron hand. He was known as "Czar Joe" at times for the manner in which he held the house in order.

The sunset of life was radiant with many colors for "Uncle Joe" Cannon.

Through his banking enterprises he had reached the ranks of millionaires. His long political life—46 years in the house—was one of the most brilliant ever enjoyed by any American statesman. To all the world he was known as "Uncle Joe."

Born at Guilford, N. C., may 7, 1836, the son of Dr. Horace F. and Gulielma C. Cannon, he was admitted to the Illinois bar in 1858.

He first entered active politics in 1861 when he was elected state's attorney of the Twenty-Seventh Judicial District, Illinois, holding office until 1868.

"Uncle Joe" first entered congress in 1873.

Wills Boy, 12, Secret Of Finding Drowned Bodies

STILLWATER, Minn., Nov. 12.—George Lawrence, 12, is the recipient of one of the strangest legacies on record in Minnesota, and tonight he was prepared to carry on the uncanny work of two generations of predecessors.

With young George rests the secret of the method used by his uncle, "Fisherman" John Jeremy, 41, who died yesterday, and "Fisherman" John's father, in recovering the bodies of drowned persons.

"Fisherman" John who won a National reputation by recovering 500 bodies, received the secret from his father, who is said to have recovered nearly 1,000 bodies.

"Fisherman" John never married, so young George becomes the possessor of the secret. The Jeremys never attempted to recover a body until the crowds of curious had departed. Occasionally they worked at night.

Railroads Shatter Record On Traffic

WASHINGTON, Nov. 12.—A new record of revenue freight movement was reported today for the week ending October 30. The total was 1,216,432 cars, 6269 more than the record, established two weeks earlier, and 91,994 more than the 1925 record. Compared with the corresponding week last year, it was a gain of 125,278 cars.

This record brought the total freight movement for the first 44 weeks of the year well above an average of 1,000,000 cars a week to 45,257,913, a gain of 1,827,810 over the corresponding period last year.

(International News Service)

Careful survey of additional data filed by a number of the companies necessitates further study he said.

Hardships Of Miners In Great Coal Strike Are Now Felt Keenly

(International News Service)

CARDIFF, Nov. 12.—The terrible hardships endured by miners' families in the long-drawn-out coal strike are now coming to light.

In the little sunless, blackened towns of South Wales straggling on mountain sides and sunk in gloomy valleys with tortuous streets and unbelievable houses the sufferings of men, women and children are now plainly to be seen.

It needs a race touched with fanaticism to undergo the privations that these Welsh miners and their families have endured. This has not been a case of a few individuals being struck with poverty. It is that of whole districts who have lost absolutely everything that belonged to them. The strike has left everyone penniless—lawyers, doctors, mine operators down to the humblest mine worker.

There are tradesmen who, six months ago, were comparatively prosperous, having a turnover of $500 per week. Many of these are now dependent on parish relief. Nobody has any money wherewith to buy. The big suppliers have cut off the usual quota of goods.

Champion Coffee Drinker Sets New Mark Of 62 Cups

FERGUS FALLS, Minn., Nov. 12.—Gust Comstock, 30, barbershop porter today drank himself into a new world's championship, consuming 62 table-size cups of coffee, defeating 11 competitors who passed out at the 27th cup shortly before noon.

Barbers gave Comstock a championship belt studded with 62 coffee beans, 56 of which represent his previous record established two years ago. Last night he attended a banquet after 12 hours of drinking which started at 7 a. m.

Comstock trained for the match by drinking 20 cups a day. He took a little cream but no sugar in each cup.

Historic Arsenal Is Sold At Auction

PITTSBURGH, Nov. 12.—The historic Allegheny arsenal, dating back to the days of the War of 1812, has been placed on the auction block and sold for $819,000. Howard Heinz was the high bidder.

For the present the arsenal will continue to be used as a warehouse but it was indicated it might be preserved as a historical landmark.

During Lafayette's last visit to America, in 1839, he was housed in the officers' quarters of the arsenal. During the Civil war in 1862, 70 women and girls employed in munition making were killed by an explosion in the arsenal.

Lyle Sugar Refinery England's Biggest Plant Forced To Close Down

(International News Service)

LONDON, Nov. 12.—The Lyle sugar refinery, the biggest of its kind in England, has shut down.

Sir Leonard Lyle says the reason is the British government's subsidy for the beet sugar industry.

"The home-grown industry subsidized by the government", states Lyle, "is producing this year 150,000 tons of sugar. Apart from this, there is in London at the present time, an amount of 100,000 tons of dumped sugar. It is this competition of the home-grown sugar and the dumped sugar which has caused us to close.

"The imported sugar is dumped into this country at between 72 and 96 cents per 112 pounds cheaper than it can be sold in its country of origin. Most of it comes from Czechoslovakia".

Electricity Baths Used To Boost Grain Crops

(International News Service)

LONDON, Nov. 12.—Electric baths for crops have increased the yield by 22 per cent under recent experimentation by the British Government. Moreover, the currents increase the grain at the expense of the straw, which is all to the good.

These electro-culture experiments have not yet reached the stage when economic conclusions can be drawn, declares V. E. Wilkins, the Government expert. But their effects on spring-sown oats and barley he states are undoubtedly heading in that direction, and when electric power comes into its own in farming as in other industries the full benefit of the present experiments will be shown.

Other experiments of the Board of Agriculture have been in the direction of the influence of ultraviolet rays on the bodily activities and health of animals. Amazing results have already been obtained and, in the case of poultry, effects of undoubted commercial value have already been achieved.

The Ministry intends to extend the tests to cows and pigs during the coming winter.

Guards Exonerated Of Damage Blame

ERIE, Pa., Nov. 12.—Erie coast guards, under command of Captain L. C. Seymour, were exonerated of all blame in connection with the wrecking of three barges of the L. C. Hedges company of Buffalo, when they broke away from the tug Barryton during a heavy storm here last week, with loss of one life and the narrow escape from death of two other couples on board the crafts.

Irving Hoffman and William Plue, captains of the barges Freedom and Adam Schumann, charged that the coast guards ignored flares lighted from the crafts. Captains James M. Todd and William P. Nolan, steamboat inspectors from the Buffalo office, were here investigating the case.

PETERS ADVENTURES IN ANIMAL LAND

By Florence Smith Vincent

GREEN-FROG GETS THE BETTER OF IT

"Wander and his Master stood on the bank of the river that runs through the Land of the Sky Blue Waters. Nor did either waste the precious moments in wondering how they were going to get across. Both knew. There was just one way, and that was to swim!

"But to the Man and the Dog of Long Ago that was no hardship at all, at all! Like you, babes o' mine, they loved the cooling water. So into the stream waded the Master and after him splashed Wander, his tail just grazing the nose of a fat Green-Frog who had been taking a sun bath on the bank. So scared was the poor fellow that he quite lost his voice and dove into the depths without a single croak. But he didn't take his dip as neatly as he should and Wander spied his green legs kicking as for just a second Green-Frog floundered in the water. The sight was too much for Wander. He forgot the importan task he was bent upon. If the truth must be told those green legs drove even the thought of his Master from his mind. And down he dove after Green-Frog.

"Foolish Wander! When the waters closed over his head he was out of his depths, while Green-Frog was right at home. Now it was Green-Frog's turn to laugh, and he did in true Frog fashion. What a chase he led Wander! Under the Dog's very nose he hopped and Wander made to grab him, only to find his mouth full of muddy water and the Frog safe behind the rushes. Wander sputtered, but wouldn't give up, and tried it again, this time to find his mouth full of slimy grasses and Green-Frog nowhere in sight.

" 'Glug, glug, ker chunk. A Dog's place in the bank and a bull-frog's in the pool!' croaked Green-Frog, and Wander knew that Green-Frog was buried in the mud up to his very eyes and was mocking him.

" 'And in the mud you can stay for all of me!' muttered Wander, who was losing his breath. 'A little of this sort goes a long way with this Dog!' Just at that second he remembered how he had happened to come into the river in the first place, and you should have seen him strike out for the surface!"

Next: "Wander Worries."

DRIVES HIS CAR INTO EAST RIVER

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, Nov. 12. — George Lupino tried three times to kill his wife to collect $10,000 life insurance, she charged today, but the last attempt acted as a boomerang. Lupino died this morning from injuries received when he drove his roadster into the East River last night. Mrs. Lupino leaped from the car just as it toppled over the edge.

DINNER STORIES

This concerns a certain vaudeville executive, recognized for his philanthropy. It is no secret that many whom he has befriended have taken advantage of his generous nature. One actor, who had been the recipient of several favors until he made himself a nuisance, was finally told not to send in any more appeals.

"This is not an appeal," his letter read. "It is a report. I have no pants!"

"Dear," pleaded Mrs. Hayes, wife of the fashionable medical practitioner, "I must have an evening gown."

"Easiest thing in the world, my dear," replied her obliging husband. "I'll change old Biltrock's dyspepsia to appendicitis today."

NEW CASTLE AND ELLWOOD PLAY HERE SATURDAY

Locals Are Slight Favorites To Cop

Leading High School Teams Of Lawrence County Await Word That Will Send Them Into Action; Both Teams Have Plenty Of Confidence Regarding Outcome; Interest Rampant As Hour Draws Near For Annual Contest; Expect Capacity Crowd To View Schoolboy Battle; Squads Kept In Seclusion Until Game Time; Battle Lacks Spectacle Of 1925 Meeting; New Castle Favored, Due To More Impressive Record This Season.

By "BUGS" WALTHER

TOMORROW afternoon thousands of grid fans will file silently into the spacious Franklin stadium field to witness the annual conflict that brings together two of the leading high schools of Lawrence county, to-wit: New Castle and Ellwood City. The curtain will go up promptly at 2:30 o'clock.

The battle on Saturday lacks the spectacle of the meeting between the two teams in 1925, for the reason that neither school this year supports what is commonly known as a "world beater". It is just a case of one good team meeting a team that is given an even chance to cop the bacon. Odds either way on the contest are uncalled for.

True, New Castle High on paper has the more impressive record, yet the Ellwood boys may have something up their sleeve. One can never be too sure about results. So you have the situation in a nutshell, and try to crack it if you will and you may find that the proposition warrants more than just ordinary endeavor.

Both teams are on edge, the fans are keyed up to the highest pitch.

Expect Fast Battle

The fans are looking forward to one of the fastest battles of the year 24 hours hence when the Red and Black clad warriors tramp out on the chalked surface to face the Blue and White gladiators. There is sure to be plenty of football played during the time the boys occupy the center of the stage. There will be the customary thrill of the occasion. There may be even a grid hero untangle himself Saturday to the plaudits of the vast throng that will flock to their afternoon pastime, who can tell?

The curtain call tomorrow will find two schoolboy teams ready and waiting for action. Ever since last year when Ellwood City took a fall out of the mighty Bridenbaugh coached coterie of pigskin toters, the fans in both towns have been talking about another contest in which the boys would be allowed to show their wares. New Castle High will endeavor through the medium of football to even the score with the Ellwoodians. That is to say, the locals are still chafing under that 14 to 0 defeat administered in such graceful fashion last year. Ellwood City appears confident that the reign of New Castle High in the realm of Lawrence County competitive sport is about due for a ready flop into the net.

Over-confidence that often creeps into the best of football teams to make "pumpkins" out of them before the four quarters are finished, is lacking in both camps today. New Castle High will finish their training activity with a light signal drill this afternoon, Ellwood City will wind up their practice sessions today and then the boys will go into seclusion until such time as they are called forth to don the grid uniform.

Stars Missing

New Castle High will take the field against the Blue and White foe minus the services of Ralph Day the sensational quarterback upon whose lithe but graceful make-up New Castle High for four years depended on to bring them over the rough places. Ellwood City will miss the services of Tom McMurdo the big plunging fullback who almost single handed tossed the locals for a flock of rowboats last year. Both Day and McMurdo are at Kiski this year and they are making good under the coaching of John Marks. The places held by these two schoolboy stars are still vacant. There will be no individual stars to attract the attention of the fans in the coming game. There will be twenty-two men on the field and they will all have a share in the victory or defeat which ever way the wind blows.

Through a strange coincident both teams have had exactly nineteen points scored against them this year. New Castle High was defeated by Schenley 6 to 2, East High of Youngstown scored a touchdown, and Donora scored a touchdown. Rochester High piled up twelve points on the Blue and White team and Beaver Falls counted seven points. In the matter of scoring however, New Castle has a distinct advantage if this means anything, the locals have counted 189 points and Ellwood City has turned in 65 points.

Ellwood Cripples Recover

According to the dope coming out of Ellwood today the Coach Lee combination will take the field Saturday without any cripples on the bench. Statti who was out for two weeks with a leg injury has rounded into form and Les Clyde's crippled leg has responded to treatment. It will mark the first time this year that Ellwood has entered an important game with their full strength ready for work.

New Castle will start the game minus the services of Mooney the stellar right guard who was injured on the kick-off of the Donora High game, and has been forced to remain out of the practices this week. "Peg" Thomas is also nursing an injury to his hip and Captain Harry Robinson is still complaining about an injured neck. However Robinson and Thomas will likely be in at the start of the Ellwood game was the word passed along by Coach Bridenbaugh today.

Earl Turk the Mahoningtown "bearcat" who has won for himself the whole-hearted support of the fans by his performances under fire this year may draw the assignment as a regular halfback tomorrow. Turk is a rangy player hard to tackle and is invaluable to the team when it comes to ripping off short gains.

Expect Large Crowd

Faculty Manager Ralph H. Gardner is making preparation to care for one of the largest crowds of the season at the local playing field. It is altogether likely that Ellwood will send about 1,000 fans to this city, and New Castle will supply about 8,000 and 9,000 followers was the indication from advance seat sale today. One section of the field has been roped off and reserved for Ellwood City boosters.

Ample police protection will be provided for the game by the local officials and everything should go off smoothly.

Following are the probable lineups submitted today by the two coaches.

Roper Regrets Harvard Action Toward Tigers

(International News Service)

PRINCETON, N. J., Nov. 12.—"Bill" Roper, coach of the Princeton football team, along with many others at Princeton, regrets the breaking up of the "Big Three" alliance.

"I am sorry to see the "Big Three" broken up, but I never meddle with what the board of control does," Roper said. "It's not up to me."

The undergraduates believe that the board took the only acceptable course, in view of the jibes at Princeton's expense which the Harvard Lampoon published on the eve of the Princeton-Harvard game last Saturday.

Princeton alumni here do not favor the proposal to create an eastern conference to include Princeton, Yale, Harvard, Columbia, Cornell, Pennsylvania, Dartmouth, Army and possibly Navy and Brown.

Westminster Will Play Bethany In New Castle Saturday October 29

(Special To The News)

NEW WILMINGTON, Pa., Nov. 12.—Westminster College's football schedule for the season of 1927 promises to be the most attractive in years. Major games with Carnegie Tech of Pittsburgh, at Youngstown, O., on Saturday, September 24, and with Allegheny College at Meadville, Saturday, October 15, add the greatest color to the program.

At the recent meeting of the Athletic Council, the schedule of eight games was ratified. Four of these contests will be with Tri-State Conference elevens.

The Carnegie Tech contest promises to be a banner affair. The Youngstown Chamber of Commerce is sponsoring the game. South High's massive stadium will be used and the contest is expected to attract 25,000 fans. A preliminary game will be played between South High and the Carnegie Tech Plebes.

October 1, Westminster will resume a relationship with the University of Buffalo, the game being played at Buffalo. A game with Ashland College of Ohio, is probable for Saturday, October 8. The game will be at home.

Renewal of athletic relationships with Allegheny college, a step which Westminster students and alumni have advocated strongly, will bring the Methodists and United Presbyterians together at Meadville, Saturday, October 15.

Following a week's rest, the blue and white will meet four conference schools on successive Saturdays, probably playing Bethany college at New Castle, October 29.

Graduate Manager A. A. McDonold has pointed out that Westminster has encountered no difficulty in arranging next year's schedule. In addition to the eight school booked, W. & J., Fordham, Pitt, Susquehanna University, Salem College, Rochester University, University of Western Maryland and Geneva sought games.

Captain Paul Montgomery, Harold Coles and "Red" McLean are lost by graduation.

SCHALK TO LEAD CHICAGO SOX

Eddie Collins May Return To Philadelphia If He Gets Release

CHICAGO, Nov. 12.—Ray Schalk veteran catcher of the American circuit has been appointed manager of the Chicago White Sox by President Charles A. Comiskey. He succeeds Eddie Collins manager for two years. Collins with the Sox for 11 years may secure his unconditional release. He may return to the Athletics where he was once a member of the $100,000 infield.

GUN CLUB TO STAGE SHOOT

The Wampum Gun Club will hold a shoot on Thanksgiving morning at 9 o'clock, it was announced today.

The shoot is open to all members of the club, and friends of the club. It is likely that turkeys will be the prizes for high scores.

Miss Violet Cordery, 23-year-old driver of racing cars, has been awarded the Dewar trophy for the most meritorious performance of the year. Miss Cordley's feat in covering 5,000 miles on the Montlhery track near Paris at an average speed of over 70 miles an hour has earned her the trophy.

Eddie Collins Deposed As White Sox Manager

By GENE HOFFMAN,
International News Service Staff Correspondent

CHICAGO, Nov. 12.—Surprise, mingled with regret, swept the ranks of baseball fandom today when it was learned that Eddie Collins, veteran second baseman, had been relieved as manager of the Chicago White Sox.

The only solace to a host of loyal White Sox followers came in the announcement that the managerial job had descended on the broad shoulders of Ray Schalk, veteran catcher, whose popularity is on a par with that of the famous second sacker.

Announcement of the sensational shakeup in the local American league club was made last night by Charles A. Comiskey, owner of the club.

While it came as a distinct shock to the rank and file, close followers of the team's destiny expected some radical change since it was seen Collins was no longer able to perform regularly at second base and was unable to keep the team at top form when he was out of the line-up.

Comiskey had no comment regarding the change other than to say that he believed Schalk was "the man for the job." He said Schalk had proved he is a man of pep and enthusiasm as well as personality and had the necessary qualifications to make him a successful big league leader.

Collins' release as manager means that he will no longer be a member of the White Sox team. Already waivers have been asked, according to the rules. If no club wants his services he will be declared a free agent and allowed to go where he pleases.

Swimming Team For Westminster

Number of Aquatic Meets Are To Be Arranged By Jack Hulme

(Special To The News)

NEW WILMINGTON, Pa., Nov. 12.—With the move authorized by the athletic council of the college, swimming is to be a minor sport at Westminster college, starting the present year. Graduate Manager of Athletics A. A. McDonald is now getting in touch with schools of the district that support aquatic teams and several meets will be arranged.

Jack Hulme of New Castle, swimming instructor of the college, will have care of the new sport. There is said to be plenty of first class material available. Among the leading swimmers are "Duke" Bowen of Erie, John Brown of Turtle Creek and "Red" Hostettler of Erie. The trio were members of the varsity eleven during the past season.

The schools that may be met are the University of Pittsburgh, Thiel and Allegheny. Westminster has probably the finest pool in the district and with swimming fixed as a minor sport, interest in aquatics will be tremendously increased.

The racing season in the Chicago district this year was the longest since 1904. Two new race tracks were opened and the meetings drew an average daily attendance of 5,000.

The Sports Hall Of Fame

By NORMAN E. BROWN,
Nominating "BUTCH" NOWACK, Illinois Football Tackle.

Because while the fame of "Frosty" Peters as a kicker relieves "Butch" of exercising his toe he boasts considerable distinction as a kicker himself.

Because he announced his intention of entering Illinois while he was booting 19 consecutive place kicks for Pana (Ill.) High School in his last year there. The record was made in five games. He muffed his twentieth try in his final game.

Because the feat is believed to be a scholastic record.

Because he showed that an athlete doesn't run entirely to kicking by completing his high school course of four years in three.

Because he proved a star tackle last year as a freshman and still has two more years to go.

A most remarkable athlete was "Swede" George Dahlgren, who at 33 years of age was a star football player at Beloit college a decade ago. Dahlgren also held the Wisconsin state records for the discus and the hammer throw.

Army And Notre Dame To Furnish Classic Saturday Afternoon

"Irish" Slight Favorites To Defeat United States Military Team.

Michigan-Ohio State Game Toss-Up—Navy Favored Over Georgetown.

BY DAVIS J. WALSH
Sports Editor Internat'l News Service

NEW YORK, Nov. 12.—If such there might be in this age of hocus pocus, the heir apparent to the national championship in college football possibly will be thrust into the light of day tomorrow as a result of a series of games of great consequence. However, it is an age of exaggerated values, the "front" is everything and, for all of me, the well dressed man may be stepping blandly along in a pair of shoes that are spats.

The greatest game of the year will take place in the next twenty four hours at the Yankee Stadium with Notre Dame and West Point as the principals. They are deservedly listed among the leading teams of the country. If either or both has been getting by on a "front," this game will show it. If I was to suspect anyone, it would be the Army.

It hasn't the soundest defense in the world and my opinion is that a smart team like Notre Dame will find the hole in the high hat. In case I have failed to make myself clear, I think the Irish will win. So do the Irish.

It may be that some of these other unbeaten teams have been wearing a waiter's "Dickey" at the banquet. If so, the meetings involving Michigan and Ohio State, the Navy and Georgetown, Tennessee and Alabama, Stanford and Washington and Boston College and Haskell Indians may leave some high class folks feeling rather naked.

Michigan-Ohio State

If it wasn't for the fact that Northwestern is very much in the running, the Michigan-Ohio State game would definitely determine the winner of the Big Ten title. Michigan already has been discountenanced by the Navy but it showed last Saturday that it was on the way back and now anything can happen. I wouldn't attempt to call this one, in spite of the fact that Ohio State has been rested and rarin' to go.

They probably are the two best teams in the conference but Northwestern can hardly go wrong with only Chicago and Iowa to beat. Still, it may be that Northwestern is picking up a live one in Chicago tomorrow, for the season doesn't exist in which Stagg fails to make at least one winning gesture.

The Navy, I think, is the 1926 team of destiny and, therefore, will take Georgetown like the cat took chloroform. Florida should be a push-over for Alabama but the remaining unbeaten team of the South, Tennessee, will have to be as good as its record implies to head off a greatly improved Vanderbilt eleven.

Stanford proved to be the best team on the coast when it came from the rear to beat Southern California, yet the Warner entry is not fool-proof defensively and may be another of those outfits that are all "front." If so, Washington may furnish the expose, although I must admit that the latter doesn't look the part.

The truth about Boston College, which has beaten everyone in general but not one in particular, also may come to the surface during the game with Haskell. The Indians by long odds are the best team Boston College has seen this year. Somehow, I fear the worst here.

The same feeling might be lavished on the undefeated Brown team if it wasn't for the fact that the writer witnessed Harvard's ineptitude last week. Brown has enjoyed a siesta since the Dartmouth game and should win.

Syracuse-Colgate

Syracuse and Colgate will furnish their annual dragout, with no choice possible as the winner. Another good one will be Nebraska and Kansas Aggies with the Valley Conference title somewhere in the offing. I like Nebraska. However, Missouri should come back at the expense of Washington and remain right up with the pace.

The Pittsburgh-W. & J. affair is another "natural," with the Presidents my choice, provided anyone cares. New York University, another national contender, would appear to have drawn a "breather" that is, provided N. Y. U. is as good as they say it is. However, there will be no breathing done during the Pennsylvania-Columbia and Cornell-Dartmouth meetings.

Oh, yes. Princeton and Yale are to meet as representatives of what the Comedians used to call the Big Three. Watch this one closely. Princeton is a natural favorite. Yale has a fighting chance, but no more.

Detroit's new boxing arena which will have a seating capacity of 16,000 will bear the name of Madison Square Garden.

Franklin High Bows To Meadville Eleven

FRANKLIN, Pa., Nov. 12.—Franklin High school lost its Armistice Day contest at Meadville yesterday afternoon 18-6 in a sea of mud.

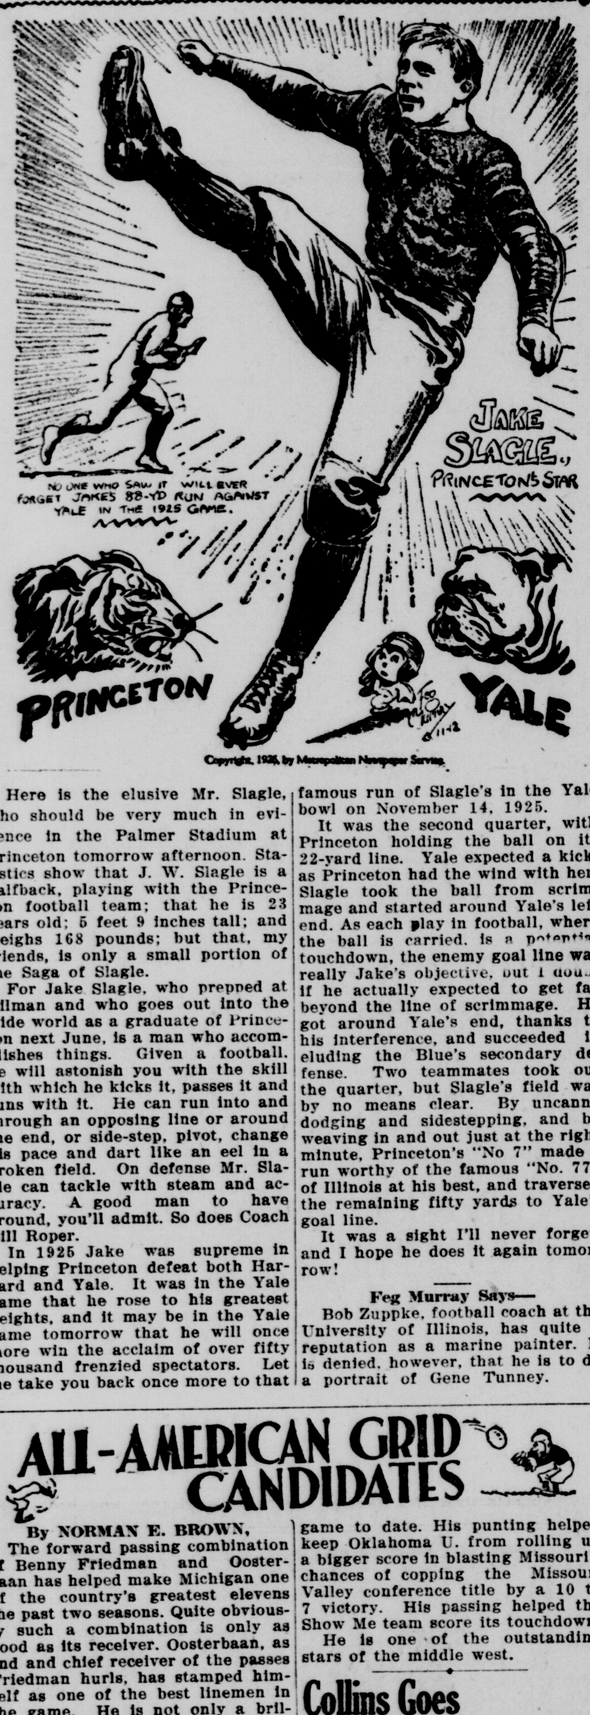
Snider's touchdown in the fourth quarter when he fell on Knapp's punt behind the goal line was Franklin's only score. Other tallies were made by Wescott on touchdown and Leonard, Meadville's halfback who had two. Leonard's two spectacular runs one of 60 yards and another of 70 all in the third quarter were features of the contest.

Y. M. C. A. Plans For Meet With Butler

The Y. M. C. A. will take four basket ball teams when they hold their tilt with the Butler Y. Walter Kirker stated that there will be three teams of boys of 14, 16, and 18. These will be chosen from the boys' classes. The remaining team will be made up of Seniors.

The program for this meet will be finished soon, and promises to be one of the best that the New Castle Y has ever had. The Butler officials of the Y are working hard, with intentions of coming out ahead, while Kirker believes that they stand a small chance of coming out ahead of the local talent.

Everything Is Jake — By Feg Murray



Here is the elusive Mr. Slagle, who should be very much in evidence in the Palmer Stadium at Princeton tomorrow afternoon. Statistics show that J. W. Slagle is a halfback, playing with the Princeton football team; that he is 23 years old; 5 feet 9 inches tall; and weighs 168 pounds; but that, my friends, is only a small portion of the Saga of Slagle.

For Jake Slagle, who prepped at Gilman and who goes out into the wide world as a graduate of Princeton next June, is a man who accomplishes things. Given a football, he will astonish you with the skill with which he kicks it, passes it and runs with it. He can run into and through an opposing line or around the end, or side-step, pivot, change his pace and dart like an eel in a broken field. On defense Mr. Slagle can tackle with steam and accuracy. A good man to have around, you'll admit. So does Coach Bill Roper.

In 1925 Jake was supreme in helping Princeton defeat both Harvard and Yale. It was in the Yale game that he rose to his greatest heights, and it may be in the Yale game tomorrow that he will once more win the acclaim of over fifty thousand frenzied spectators. Let me take you back once more to that famous run of Slagle's in the Yale bowl on November 14, 1925.

It was the second quarter, with Princeton holding the ball on its 22-yard line. Yale expected a kick, as Princeton had the wind with her. Slagle took the ball from scrimmage and started around Yale's left end. As each play in football, where the ball is carried, is a potential touchdown, the enemy goal line was really Jake's objective, but I doubt if he actually expected to get far beyond the line of scrimmage. He got around Yale's end, thanks to his interference, and succeeded in eluding the Blue's secondary defense. Two teammates took out the quarter, but Slagle's field was by no means clear. By uncanny dodging and sidestepping, and by weaving in and out just at the right minute, Princeton's "No 7" made a run worthy of the famous "No. 77" of Illinois at his best, and traversed the remaining fifty yards to Yale's goal line.

It was a sight I'll never forget, and I hope he does it again tomorrow!

Feg Murray Says—

Bob Zuppke, football coach at the University of Illinois, has quite a reputation as a marine painter. It is denied, however, that he is to do a portrait of Gene Tunney.

ALL-AMERICAN GRID CANDIDATES

By NORMAN E. BROWN,

The forward passing combination of Benny Friedman and Oosterbaan has helped make Michigan one of the country's greatest elevens the past two seasons. Quite obviously such a combination is only as good as its receiver. Oosterbaan, as end and chief receiver of the passes Friedman hurls, has stamped himself as one of the best linemen in the game. He is not only a brilliant wingman on offense, but a sterling defensive player. He and Flory give the Yostmen two of the best ends in the west, if not in the country.

Ooterbaan's great height gives him an advantage in receiving Friedman's long passes. He stands six feet four inches with his cleats in the mud. Edgar Lindenmeyer, All-American line selection last season because of his work at tackle for the Missouri team. His punting, open field running and passing have played important parts in Missouri's game to date. His punting helped keep Oklahoma U. from rolling up a bigger score in blasting Missouri's chances of copping the Missouri Valley conference title by a 10 to 7 victory. His passing helped the Show Me team score its touchdown.

He is one of the outstanding stars of the middle west.

Collins Goes Duck Hunting

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 12.—Eddie Collins, deposed manager of the Chicago White Sox, thought so little of his dismissal by Charles A. Comisky that he went duck shooting today, according to the statement of Mrs. Collins. She said she didn't expect Eddie to return before evening and that she had no idea of what his plans for next season might be.

SPORTS DONE BROWN

There are only a few of them left—five to be exact.

This refers to playing managers in the major leagues.

The departure of Ty Cobb and George Sisler from the managerial ranks in the American League leaves Eddie Collins, Bucky Harris and Tris Speaker as the only boys in the circuit who lead their teams from the playing field. Only two National League clubs have playing pilots, the Boston Braves, with Davey Bancroft, and the world's champion Cardinals with Hornsby.

Checking over the list of pennant winning teams in the last 22 years one gets the impression that the bench manager is more successful than the playing boss.

However, there have been twice as many bench bosses. Two of the five playing managers to win pennants in the American League are now in the game—Speaker and Harris. The others are Bill Carrigan, Fielder Jones and Jake Stahl. Hornsby is the only playing boss now in the National who has ever won a flag. Fred Clark and Bill McKechnie, whose experiment with the Pittsburgh Pirates failed, and Frank Chance also played while they led their teams to flags—Chance to four of them.

The skids are being greased to permit Charley "Phil" Rosenberg, bantamweight champion, to defend his title in New York City. The New York state athletic commission is going to be asked to re-instate him.

This after that same boxing board was the first to bar him and conducted a vigorous campaign "in the interests of the game" to get other commissions to bar him.

Following his banishment by the New York state body Rosenberg fell into disrepute in Illinois and other states—his proposed battle with Bud Taylor producing so much odium that it was called off by the Illinois officials.

The first blow by the New York commission was taken with a view toward impressing upon his mind the necessity for conducting himself in an honorable way—one that would be a credit to the game. His chicanery in Illinois showed conclusively that he chose to laugh at whatever authority there was in boxing. Elsewhere he showed no desire to right himself.

Now if the New York commission weakens and permits him to profit through the medium of a title bout—well touted—he will have the last laugh on the law.

Reinstatement of Rosenberg by said commish will simply illustrate again how sincerely interested such bodies are in conducting the game for the benefit of the sport.

Grove City Ready To Battle Geneva

GROVE CITY, Pa., Nov. 12.—Coach Bowser looked slightly more pleased after yesterday afternoon's practice session. "Suds" McCune and Paterlini appeared more like themselves. It is definitely known now that they will be able to start the game tomorrow at Geneva. Coach Bowser stated last evening that he believed "Dick" Sweet would be the only regular missing from the lineup tomorrow afternoon. Of course the absence of Sweet is bound to weaken the Crimson line but it does not put Grove City entirely out of the running.

Grove City has not lost a game to an opponent since the game with West Virginia University last fall, the third game of the Crimson schedule. Since that time ten consecutive games have been won by Captain Cribbs and his men.

In these ten games a total of 153 points have been scored while opponents were scoring 24 points. Six of the 24 points credited to opponents were scored by an intercepted pass resulting in a touch-down, six points by a touchdown following a blocked kick and 12 points by the opponents rushing over two touchdowns.

Upon thhese facts concerning the play of the crimson team in past games is based the hope that Coach Bowser's eleven may have a chance to trim Coach "Bo" McMillan's eleven tomorrow afternoon.

Beaver Falls Wins From Freedom High

BEAVER FALLS, Nov. 12.—Beaver Falls climbed back to the top in the race for Beaver county championship here yesterday and sent Freedom's hopes glimmering before a diversified attack that resulted in a 25-0 score. It was the first time this year that Freedom has tasted defeat. Beaver Falls has lost one game, that being to Rochester by a 1-6 score. The Tigers have only one more game to play and are almost certain of winning it.

Koppel Company Gets Big Contract

KOPPEL PA., Nov. 12.—The Koppel Car Repair company which has been idle for some time has been awarded a large contract covering repairs on 500 hopper cars for the B. and O. Railroad company. This news is received with great joy by the residents of the town, coming as it does directly before the holiday season. Thirty-five of the 500 cars have arrived and work will start about November 15.

Gaelic football which has been a popular sport in Ireland for centuries, calls for a team of 15 players, distributed as follows: 1 goal keeper, 2 fullbacks, 2 halfbacks, 3 centers, two wing centers, two forwards, two wing forwards and 1 full forward. In point of action and excitement the sport is declared to be fully equal to any other form of football.

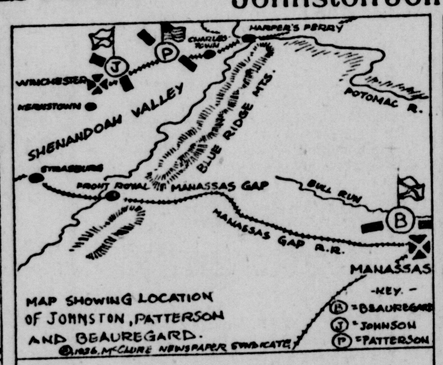
Registered U. S. Patent Office.

JOSEPH E. JOHNSTON, CONFEDERATE GENERAL AT WINCHESTER, RECEIVED ORDERS FROM RICHMOND TO ELUDE THE UNION TROOPS UNDER PATTERSON IN THE SHENANDOAH VALLEY AND HASTEN TO THE AID OF BEAUREGARD WHO WAS THREATENED BY McDOWELL. TO DECEIVE PATTERSON AS TO HIS PLANS, JOHNSTON AT ONCE BEGAN A SHAM ADVANCE UPON HIS OPPONENT. THE RUSE SUCCEEDED.



MAP SHOWING LOCATION OF JOHNSTON, PATTERSON AND BEAUREGARD.
©1926, McCLURE NEWSPAPER SYNDICATE

THIS UNEXPECTED MOVE SO SURPRISED PATTERSON, AN AGED VETERAN OF THE WAR OF 1812, THAT HE BELIEVED JOHNSTON HAD RECEIVED LARGE RE-ENFORCEMENTS, AND RETIRED NORTHWARD UNTIL HE WAS MORE THAN TWENTY MILES FROM WINCHESTER.

WHEN PATTERSON HAD BEGUN HIS RETREAT, JOHNSTON SUDDENLY TURNED BACKWARD AND, REACHING THE MANASSAS GAP RAILROAD, ENTRAINED WITH ABOUT 6,000 MEN FOR MANASSAS. THE REST OF HIS ARMY UNDER KIRBY SMITH WAS ORDERED TO FOLLOW AS QUICKLY AS POSSIBLE.

ON JULY 20, 1861, JOHNSTON JOINED BEAUREGARD, WHOSE BRIGADES WERE DRAWN UP BEHIND BULL RUN TO OPPOSE THE ADVANCE OF McDOWELL'S ARMY. BEAUREGARD HAD ALREADY MADE HIS PLANS FOR THE BATTLE AND JOHNSTON, THOUGH HIS SUPERIOR IN RANK, PERMITTED THE FORMER TO DIRECT THE OPERATIONS.

N. Y. STOCKS

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, Nov 12.—Industrial stocks and high priced specialties staged a modest "demonstration" in the early trading today by way of emphasizing Wall Street's hearty approval of the extra dividend of $4 a share ordered by the directors of General Motors Corporation.

With U. S. Steel at 150 and General motors above 151, something of the old standard of values was restored to the market leaders, wiping out the effects of the September-October decline. Thus steel common had by this valuation recovered about 1 points and was only 9 points below the record high. Cast Iron Pipe and Woolworth jumped an additional 5 points while Baldwin Locomotive continued its spectacular run to 132½, completing a 15 point advance in a week. Railroad stocks exhibited a stronger tone. The oils were also steady.

Call money unchanged at 4¼ per cent.
